African Police Drive Against Negro Boycott

Open Purge Against Leaders; Passes for Nonwhites Revived

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Police and soldiers today launched a massive operation to purge strife-torn Nyanga Negro Township of Negroes maintaining a work boycott against the government's racial policies.

The two big African settlements—Nyanga East and Nyanga West—outside Cape Town were the scenes of bloody clashes earlier this week when soldiers and police made raids with clubs, guns and whips.

Strong Security Cordon

A strong security cordon surrounding Nyanga, keeping out everyone not part of the invasion force.

The South African government said soldiers began patrolling inside the settlement to give "protection to law-abiding natives," meaning those Negroes trying to go back to their jobs in nearby Cape Town.

Simultaneously, police began searching for Negroes the government charges have been inciting others to stay away from work and threatening violence to those who returned to their jobs.

The leader of the militant Pan-Africanist Congress, Robert Mangaliso Sobukwe, told a court in Johannesburg today that nonwhite Africans "have no moral obligation to obey" South African laws which are made by a white government.

Charged With Inciting Negroes

Sobukwe and 22 other PAC leaders were charged with inciting Negroes to defy the laws which required nonwhites to carry pass identity cards. Demonstrations against these hated passes took off the racial strife three weeks ago.

The government came under increasing pressure today from businessmen to make overtures to Negro leaders for an end to the racial crisis.

Some influential Afrikaner business leaders were reported considering an appeal to Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd to consult with nonwhite leaders in search of a compromise in the bitter, bloody conflict. Verwoerd and his National party are the political spokes-

Insurance Aid Bill Offered by GOP Senators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seven Republican senators offered today a bill to set up a system of federal-state aid for health insurance protection of persons over 65.

The measure follows the lines of legislation Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming has been developing in the administration.

However, the GOP senators did not claim administration backing for their proposal. One of them told a reporter he believed the 48-million-dollar estimated annual federal cost would be beyond what President Eisenhower would accept.

Flemming testified before a Senate subcommittee Wednesday that his plan had not yet been accepted or rejected in the administration.

These are major points in the Republican senators' bill: It would be administered by state agencies which would have to be set up by legislative action in the states.

The state agencies would contract with private insurance firms to provide the coverage; if they could not do so, the states could furnish it themselves.

Every man over 65 and his wife would be permitted to subscribe. The top rate would be $13 a month. If the subscriber had income of less than $500 a year, he would pay nothing. If his income were between $500 and $1,000 he would pay 50 cents a month, and on up a graduate scale until the person with more than $3,600 income would have to pay the full $13.

Surrenders After Siege

Five Held Hostage Near Minerva by Crazy Gunman

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—What prompted Charles R. Brown, 25, and unemployed, to invade three Stark County homes, near Minerva firing guns, terrorizing the residents and holding five persons hostage?

Authorities said Brown gathered hostages ranging in age from 6 months to 73 years in the bizarre incident Wednesday. After drinking whisky and threatening the hostages for nearly four hours, he sent two of them to call police and released the others unharmed. Then, although he had three shotguns, a rifle and two pistols, he surrendered to law officers after a brief siege.

The hostages quoted Brown as saying he had been in a mental hospital. Lt. Edward Moore, a sheriff's deputy, said Brown at first was unable to say why he had acted as he did.

Later, in jail, where he was held without charge, Brown told the deputy if it had not been for the baby girl, "he would have shot it out with us because he wanted to commit suicide," Moore related.

Brown had left a note for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, both of whom were at work at the Alliance Review at the time, but the contents were not disclosed.

One of the hostages, 73-year-old Arthur Widener, said Brown "claimed someone was going to

Industrialists, Others Back Plan

Technology School Wins Local Support

The Salem Institute of Technology should get off to an auspicious start if the attitude prevails that was evident Wednesday at a meeting of area industrial and educational leaders.

Purpose of the meeting was to air the proposed technical school's needs and goals and to explain the progress made thus far in establishing the school.

Holland Cameron, Institute director, said as a result of the meeting yesterday enough industries indicated their support that officials are planning to go ahead with at least the mechanical engineering phase of the institute.

He said firms showing an optimistic view toward the school included the E. W. Bliss Company, Electric Furnace, Gonda Engineering and the Deming Company.

He said several other companies in the area had previously indicated a desire to participate in the new school.

Besides Mr. Cameron, others on the program were Paul E. Smith, superintendent of schools; Dr. Byrl Shoemaker, state supervisor of vocational education, and Tom McConaughy, district supervisor of vocational education in northeastern Ohio.

Yesterday's meeting, held at the high school, was planned by the Salem Area Chamber of Commerce. More than 70 attended.

The Institute will be operated on a cooperative basis, in which industries and schools join forces in an effort to train young men in

Mrs. Marian Ferris Named Meter Maid

Mrs. Marian R. Ferris, 1241 E. State St., has been named to a meter maid post in the Salem Police department.

Announcement of Mrs. Ferris' appointment was made this morning by Mayor Dean Cranmer. She replaces Mrs. Marjorie Edwards, who resigned in January.

Roy Harris, secretary of the Civil Service Commission, said Mrs. Ferris' score of 87 was high among the three women who took the test for the post. Others who competed, and their scores are Kathleen McGaffick, 672 W. Pershing St., 81; and Joyce Oesch, 409 Ohio Ave., 77½.

Mrs. Ferris' husband, Thomas, is operator of the Broadway Custom Auto.

Two Winners to Enter County Spelldown

Parochial Bee Is Set Saturday

Twelve youngsters from four schools in Columbiana County will compete at East Liverpool Saturday in the annual parochial spelling bee.

They will represent St. Patrick's of Leetonia, St. Aloysius of East Liverpool, Immaculate Conception of Wellsville and Our Lady of Lourdes of East Palestine.

St. Paul's of Salem also was to have participated, but found it necessary to withdraw from the contest because of a "heavy conflict of other school activities."

Saturday's contest will begin at 1:30 p.m. at St. Aloysius School in East Liverpool with the final two students advancing to the county-wide contest at Lisbon on April 23 for both the parochial and public school systems. The six survivors at Lisbon will advance to the district finals at Canton May 6.

Miss Ann Johnston, a principal in the East Liverpool public school system, will be the pronouncer on Saturday.

These spellers will compete: St. Patrick's — Michele Riles, seventh grade, Robert Macchione, sixth grade, and Thomas Troy, eighth grade.

Hundreds of Volunteers Man Battered Dikes

Search for Signs Of Break-Throughs, Augment Levees

By The Associated Press
Hundreds of volunteers manned weakened levees in the most critical section of the Midwest flood belt today, hoping to hold back the muddy waters of the swollen Mississippi and Missouri rivers.

They fought to prevent the surging rivers from further flooding fertile farm lands and communities in Illinois and Missouri.

The flood fighters patched the water sogged earthen levees with thousands of sandbags. During the night floodlights searched for signs of possible break-throughs.

Patrols of men, some wearing bright orange life jackets, carried aerial flares to shoot off if they detected danger spots.

Officials said the major danger was that the tons of river water would spill through the dikes which seemingly appear solid but which may be weakened inside by the seepage.

The two big rivers have been on a rampage for a week. The chief danger spots were confined to the lower reaches of the Missouri River and to the Mississippi about 150 miles to the north and the same distance south of St. Louis.

Farmers, townsmen, civil defense workers and college students made up the hundreds of volunteers working on the levees.

"People are in need here now," said Oscar Crist, a farmer who lives 35 miles west of a battered Mississippi River levee at West Quincy, Mo. "That's the time to help. If we can't help each other, what good are we?"

More Workers Summoned
More workers were called in to strengthen a weakened levee below Quincy, Ill. In nearby Meyer, Ill., only a few of the 100 residents remained, staying in a grain elevator, one of the few buildings not flooded.

Some of the pressure on levees south of Gregory Landing, Mo., was relieved when a levee was dynamited at the confluence of the Fox and Mississippi rivers. Volunteers used baled hay, straw, sand bags and snow fences to protect other levees at Gregory Landing.

A few of the 33 residents of the community defiantly stayed behind and were living in a grain elevator, far above the murky waters.

About 80 families moved out of Canton, Mo., a community of some 2,400 but Mayor Earl Zenge was optimistic the levee would hold against the Mississippi flood waters.

The Mississippi, swelled further by the flooded Missouri, caused some apprehension below St. Louis.

At Ste. Genevieve, Mo., 45 miles south of St. Louis, rising water halted operations of the Missouri Pacific's railroad ferry between Missouri and Illinois.

Couple Living Happily On $15 a Month

BOYERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Annie Reitnauer, 78, and her husband, William, 76, live in a partly collapsed pre-Revolutionary home. It has no water, electricity, heating or plumbing facilities. They live on $15 a month.

When asked what she wanted more than anything else, Annie replied: "I'd like to have a pound of margarine because it makes fried potatoes so much better than lard does. It browns them nicer."

Neighbors and relatives have offered help.

"I think people are so very kind for wanting to help us but we really don't need much," said Mrs. Reitnauer as she stood in the cluttered kitchen of the farm home some 10 miles from this.

E. Palestine Plans Mass Polio Clinic

EAST PALESTINE — The local Board of Health is making plans to hold a mass polio clinic here soon at which 231 students of the East Palestine school district will receive Salk vaccine.

No date for the clinic has been set but officials say it probably will be on a Saturday.

Students in the Unity and Negley buildings, which are in this school district but outside the city, will get free vaccine through a county project. Vaccine for students in the city schools will be paid for by the city.

Plans are to give one injection now and another in about six weeks.

At the last mass clinic here in December, 324 pupils received the smallpox vaccine.

New W. Branch School Area To Be Created

Resolution Drafted At County Board Meeting Wednesday

The oft-threatened split of the nearby Mahoning Local School district may become a reality when the Mahoning County Board of Education meets May 4.

At that time the board will consider a resolution presented at its April meeting yesterday by James E. Bennett Jr., a member, to create a new local school district from the present Mahoning Local.

The new one would be known as West Branch Local School District and would encompass all the territory in the present Mahoning Local District except Sebring and its immediate area.

Thus, Sebring would remain Mahoning Local and the rest of the territory covering Smith, Goshen and Knox Townships would become West Branch.

The split of the Mahoning Local District is expected to be approved when the Mahoning County Board of Education meets May 4, it was indicated Wednesday. All but one member indicated they were in favor of creating the new school district.

Voters in the large Mahoning Local district have rejected bond issues three times in a row to build a centralized high school for the district. Most of the opposition came from the Sebring area where the public wanted the new school built.

"The Mahoning Board of Education warned the voters before the last bond issue was presented that if the district could not resolve its differences, the board would be forced to split the district."

If the West Branch District is created May 4, plans will be started immediately for a new high school building, it was indicated. The present high school at Damascus would become a junior high eventually.

According to the resolution to split the Mahoning Local District, an accurate map of the territory affected will be drawn up.

Arrangements are being made to legally convey to the Sebring District and the new West Branch District the real and personal property in their respective territories.

The McKinley High School, Lincoln and F. A. Sebring buildings and lands in Sebring would remain the property of the Mahoning Local District. All other buildings, land and tangible property would become the property of the new West Branch Local School District.

The resolution also calls for a Board of Education for West Branch to be comprised of Dr. J. Fred Jose, John L. Denny, Norman Barnett and Richard Burton until such time as their successors are elected and qualified.

The remaining members of the present Mahoning Local Board, George Gotschall and Charles Mercer shall appoint members to fill the three vacancies on the remaining Mahoning Local Board.

WSCS Elects Officers At Winona

Election of officers was held at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service and the Hazel Circle in the Winona Methodist Church.

Mrs. Donald Dusenberry conducted the half-hour prayer service prior to the meeting.

Those elected for the ensuing year are: President, Mrs. Harry Hanna; vice president, Mrs. Francis Hawkins; honorary vice president, Mrs. John Capper; recording secretary, Mrs. Nova Andre; treasurer, Mrs. Arthur Loudon; promotion secretary, Mrs. Donald Dusenberry; spiritual life secretary, Mrs. Albert Althouse; missions, Mrs. J. V. Arthur.

Christian social relations, Mrs. Claudia Mountz; student secretary, Mrs. Richard Stamp; youth, Mrs. Richard Dunn; children, Mrs. Gilmore Coffee; literature, Mrs. Clarence Alexander; supplies, Mrs. John Smith; status of women, Mrs. Charles Berger; local church activities, Mrs. Lowell Whinnery and Mrs. Elmer Stamp.

Mrs. Elmer Stamp was in charge of the program and presented the introduction of the study topic, "Town and Country" to begin at her home at 9:30 a.m. April 13.

Mrs. Loudon, treasurer, conducted a short ceremony when the world banks were opened. A portion of this will be sent to the crusade scholarship fund.

Letters were read from the O. M. Moore family and Jane Crooks, missionaries in Africa. Mrs. Moore is the daughter of a former minister, the Rev. and Mrs. Earl Brooks. Miss Crooks reported on the deplorable conditions caused by the revolts around the missions. People are beaten and their homes are destroyed, she said.

The purchasing committee reported the purchase of a four-drawer filing cabinet for the pastor's study.

The group will serve three mother-daughter banquets in May. The spring meeting was announced for April 19 in Steubenville.

The Hazel Circle will entertain their mothers at a guest tea May 2 at 7:30 p.m.

The next regular meeting is on May 3 at 7:30 p.m. at the church. Mrs. Loudon is in charge of the pledge service, with Mrs. Grady Odom conducting the worship service. The hostesses are Mrs. Andre and Miss Ethel Andre.

Mrs. Herbert Hanna and Mrs. Loudon were hostesses for Tuesday's meeting.

light right now. She stepped up for initiation into Phi Beta Kappa at the University of Cincinnati Monday.

And Avery, 34, stepped up with her.

"We have a motto," said Jane. "It is up to us, as blind who are in the minority, to adjust to the sighted world who are in the majority."

Bill Hewitt, 22, a psychology major who also won election to Phi Beta Kappa, said:

"Jane's so well accepted here because she helps other students, too." Those helped include Bill Hewitt.

Jane and Avery met in high school at the State School for the Blind at Louisville.

Instead of returning home to Covington, Ky., she got a typing job in Louisville, "so I could see him on dates."

"Then we eloped," she recalled gleefully. "My family had planned a church wedding and all that fuss and we didn't know how to be tactful about it."

The blind couple had a lot of long range goals. Jane lived with her family in Covington while working at a Cincinnati firm to help Avery through Ohio State University.

Now that Avery is an occupational therapist with the Veterans Administration Hospital here, they have their own home. Jane is due to graduate in June.

But she wants to return next fall for a master's degree in experimental psychology. Jane aims to teach teachers of the handicapped. One of her goals is to see blind children integrated into sighted classes at start of school.

Jane said she had to leave home at age six to attend a special school for the blind and said, "this can leave a scar."

She said the blind have to make two big adjustments—being separated from their families, and when school is finished, entering the sighted world.

A classmate, Flo Flemming, said, "You forget about Jane being blind. You think of her as just another student who works hard and gets the grades she deserves."

"Most important of all, she's friendly to everyone," said Neil Kumpf, a junior.

Jane's classes are all in one hall at the university and she goes from room to room unaided.

"I use landmarks, like water fountains, elevators and roaring fluorescent lights," she said.

She gets help from fellow students in preparation of special diagrams. There are no braille textbooks, so she must buy text recordings. A retired teacher has helped by volunteer reading of many textbooks onto records.

At home, housekeeping is no problem, Jane said, "but we have to maintain order all the time."

The Dotsons keep lights on in the house all evening, Jane said, "We don't want to be the only dark house on the street."

And she said they often eat dinner by candlelight, adding "we love atmosphere. We can sense it."

Their recreations include swimming, dancing, bridge and television.

Television? Jane said, "The majority of our friends are sighted. We wouldn't want to blind TV for them."

Law Books Cause Floor At Courthouse to Sag

Columbiana County Commissioners Wednesday ordered the Courthouse law library shelves readjusted, after it was discovered that the library floor is sagging from one to three inches in some sections.

The shelves and books will be rearranged over the floor beams and around the sides of the room.

It is estimated that the books weigh about 15 tons. The 10,000-book library is located on the third floor directly over courtroom number 2.

COURTROOM COMEDY PROPS — Court Bailiff Nick Climaco of Cleveland, Ohio, gets a laugh whenever he looks at these grim objects — a pair of crutches and an ankle-to-hip brace. They were used a year ago by a 19-year-old plaintiff asking damages for injuries suffered in an accident. The jury was treated to an unexampled demonstration of courage as the youth gamely struggled to and from his place in court during the 10 days of the trial. When the verdict went against him, however, he threw the crutches down, took off the brace, and strode angrily out. Climaco says nobody has ever claimed them.

Buenos Aires Sport

By BRIAN BELL

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—If it's a good day in Buenos Aires—or better yet if a stiff breeze is blowing—it's pesos to pastries you'll find a good percentage of the male population standing on the corner watching the girls go by.

It's the favorite outdoor sport. Beng somewhat of a sport ourselves, we decided to do an on-the-spot street interview.

"Pardon me, sir. I saw you watching the girls and I wonder if you would answer a few questions for the press."

"Si, senior. I'll be delighted. But move over a little please. You're blocking the view. Ah, that's fine."

"Your name please."

"Juan Casanova."

"Mr. Casanova could you give us an idea of your duties at this corner. I mean a few simple rules for girl-watching."

"Certainly, senior. First you have to find a spot with an unobstructed view. Then you keep your eyes opened, swing your head quickly from side to side until you spot a subject. The subject is then kept in observation until its quality is judged. If acceptable the subject is viewed thoroughly up and down approaching; if especially worth, viewing may continue after the subject has passed. Often back viewing, as it is known in the trade, is very rewarding. However, it is dangerous, especially for an inexperienced watcher, for another subject may be missed. Veterans glance quickly down the street to be sure nothing good is coming then and only then they risk back viewing."

"I've been noticing that you come to this corner regularly. Do all of you have favorite spots?"

"Well, some spots are better than others. I like this one because there's always a nice breeze at the corner."

"What are your hours?"

"Well, technically I'm always on duty whenever I'm in the street. The sport can be played walking too, although not as effectively as standing."

"Is it permissible to speak to the, er, subjects?"

"Of course, senior! It is not possible you have not heard of the piropo?"

"No, I don't believe so."

"A, the piropo is the true art. It is the compliment to her beauty or a flirtatious remark."

"What do you usually say?"

"The simplest piropos are 'How

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Lyndon Johnson, sophisticatedly aware that no star, no matter how brilliant, can ever make it alone at a national convention, appears to have picked the man with whom he'd like to run. In recent weeks, the Senate majority leader has been talking quietly with Pennsylvania's Gov. David Lawrence.

The Texan has suggested that they team up to fight for the presidential and vice presidential nominations in Los Angeles.

Not too long after one of these friendly talks, Sen. Johnson went over to a St. Patrick's Day eve party thrown by a congressman in the Washington, D.C., Press Club. That was on March 5.

Soon after Johnson arrived he saw Dave McDonald, whose Steel Workers are a powerful section of Gov. Lawrence's own political forces.

The Senate leader asked the labor leader why some steel union officials were lashing out at him down in Texas.

JOHNSON SAID he wasn't anti-labor. He pointed out that the Texas Railway Brotherhoods and a strong bloc of AFL-CIO union, including many United Auto Workers district men, supported him.

McDonald retorted that his Texas people had some pretty strong minds of their own with opinions to match.

The Pittsburgh union chief then said it wasn't he who had been lambasting Johnson but what about that letter Johnson had sent to leading Texans. In it Johnson said he "favored strong, effective regulatory legislation to protect Americans from improper labor practices."

Their voices rose. A picture was snapped by some amateur collector of historic events on glossies. McDonald said something like, "Let's cut this out, everybody's listening . . . why not continue this at lunch tomorrow somewhere?"

Johnson agreed. He believed that he did not deserve labor's criticism. They were hitting him because he is a southerner and for many obvious reasons this angered him.

The Senator couldn't make lunch the next day but felt so strongly that he juggled an appointment with a Cabinet member and invited McDonald in to his office at 10 in the morning.

THERE IS NO DOUBT that Johnson has strong support inside

Texas labor. There might have been an official endorsement of the majority leader by the Texas state council if the national AFL-CIO leadership hadn't voted in Bal Harbour, Fla., last February to instruct all state councils to stay neutral until after the nominations.

Just what Johnson told McDonald I'm not privy to but it was an hour talk.

The Senate chief went into the session determined to reject insinuations that he is anti-labor. He could have told McDonald that his relationship with Walter Reuther is friendly, indeed. Whether he did tell this to the steel union chief, only the two of them know. But the cordiality between Johnson and Reuther—and "Mr. Sam" Rayburn, whom Reuther respects, was confirmed by an almost unnoticed incident the other day.

A STORY APPEARED in a Washington daily newspaper that Reuther was unfriendly to Johnson. When a mutual friend of the two telephoned the Auto Union president long distance with news of the story, Reuther scouted his national office to learn just who might have either authorized or leaked such a piece.

A telegram was sent to the paper by a press aide denying the report. Then a copy of the wire was telegraphed to Johnson by Reuther himself with some mighty warm additional words.

All this is not standard operating procedure for the Auto Union chief. It revealed Reuther's concern over what Johnson thought of him. Of course, this season being what it is, political history grows out of such instances.

It also reflects the fact that Reuther does not want to hurt Johnson's efforts to walk into the national convention with labor support of his own to match the union leaders' backing for John Kennedy, Hubert Humphrey and Stuart Symington.

Violence Is the Enemy

The difference between events in South Africa, where scores have been killed and hundreds injured, and events in the United States is the degree of violence generated by friction between Negroes and whites.

In the United States so far, no one has been killed or hurt seriously. This country has been lucky. South Africa has not been lucky. Its racial tension has reached and passed the flaming stage.

It never was plainer that violence is the enemy.

This is the immediate point of agreement whenever men of good will are given a chance to quiet down race tension; they try to get rid of the violence of thought that leads sooner or later to violence of action.

Once there has been an outbreak of physical violence, the damage is done. Tempers are lost. Blood is shed. Martyrs are created. Tears are shed over fresh graves.

Vows of vengeance are made. The fear of death and injury settles like a pall over the thoughts of men. They react like the frightened animals that all men are when threatened with harm. They lay plans to kill, lest they be killed.

This is the problem of mankind in all situations where fear and hate are generated. Getting rid of violence of thought and action has been the constant aim of men of peace and good will since the League of Nations sought to outlaw violence—war—as an instrument of policy.

That is the aim of the United Nations. It is the aim of Christianity. Every resolution by men of good will is built on the premise that violence, itself, is the enemy of peace; that the first step into the Golden Age is renunciation of violence.

Race rioting in South Africa and racial friction in the United States shows how avidly men seek violence to try the patience of their antagonists.

Until men seek harmony, they will not find it. They will continue to find what they seek — violence.

The Nation Vs. James Hoffa

The latest report of the Senate Labor-Management Committee does not tell us anything new about the sort of man James R. Hoffa is. It only fills in more details of the sordid story of the Teamster boss and his henchmen.

But these details underscore again the public's interest in breaking Hoffa's hold on a large segment of the labor movement.

If it were simply a matter of the welfare of the Teamsters Union members, it could perhaps be left to them to decide the fate of their president.

If it were simply a matter of the reputation of the labor movement itself, it could perhaps be left to the rest of organized labor to deal with him, although in trying to dissociate themselves from him the leaders of the AFL-CIO have had to cut the lines of communication that they could use to bring pressure on him.

But there is more to it than that. The Senate report charges that a national crime syndicate is on the rise, using its connections with the Teamsters Union leaders and a few other union officials to gain underground control over the national economy.

The report charges that investigative action was the only thing that blocked a plot to use $300,000 in Teamster funds to smuggle arms to Cuba and the Dominican Republic in 1959.

These are matters of public concern and they cannot be left to other hands.

The stakes are high for Hoffa, so he fights with every trick and strategy he can lay his hands on. He has been successful so far.

But the stakes are higher on the other side, for the future of our economic integrity and the welfare of the nation's citizens depend on the outcome.

That is why the Senate committee says the courts and executive agencies as well as Congress must devote themselves to delivering the "Sunday punch" that will crack the power of James Hoffa.

Nothing less will be sufficient.

Boost to Road Development

In upholding the validity of the new law to permit the use of state retirement trust funds for advance purchase of highway right-of-way, the Ohio Supreme Court has given a boost to a plan that could speed our road development and make it cheaper, too.

The idea was conceived as a way to solve one of the knottiest problems of big highway construction projects: how to acquire land for proposed roadways before speculators or developers get to it, without tying up money needed for current contracts.

When the bill was introduced in the Legislature last year, it stirred up a flurry of controversy. That was probably a good thing. Teachers, school employees and public employees covered by the retirement systems have a big personal and financial stake in what happens to their trust funds.

Because the idea was new — California is the only other state that has tried it — many questions raised could not be positively answered. As a result of the legislative and public attention, the bill was revised several times with the specific aim of writing enough protection for the funds into it to satisfy the administrators of the retirement systems.

Not more than 10 per cent of each trust fund or 10 per cent of the total of the funds can be used for right-of-way purchases. None of the money can be used unless the trustees agree to the terms. The trustees will hold title to the land until the highway director is ready to use it and to buy it from them. This cannot be more than five years after the original purchase.

The statute guarantees a fair return on the investments the funds make in highway lands. Few, if any, other ventures in which the retirement systems invest money offer a similar guarantee.

These terms, along with the approval now granted by the Supreme Court, should convince the directors of the retirement systems that they will not endanger the trusts they hold by participating in the advance right-of-way program.

They have an opportunity to make a profit and simultaneously to make a contribution to an important phase of Ohio's economic development.

Ike had to give answers to census takers at the White House and his reply to "Do you have hot and cold running water?" must have been "Plenty hot here all the time." We imagine President's census form reads:

- Q. Does more than one family live here?
- A. No; it only seems so.
- Q. Are you leaving anybody out because you are not sure whether he should be listed as someone having another home?
- A. The way the place is crowded with visitors these days how could I be sure?
- Q. List all persons who were staying overnight as of March 31st.
- A. Don't ask the impossible. I have trouble enough listing the overnights at Camp David and Gettysburg.
- Q. Do you have a bathtub and shower?
- A. It's nice to face up to a question not even the press conference boys ever asked me. So far not even the rival candidates or the enemy editorial writers have tried to make an issue of my bathroom policies.
- Q. Has this house a kitchen?
- A. Yes. If Truman had one why can't I?
- Q. Is there inside plumbing?
- A. There is and even after all those years of Democratic occupancy it ain't bad.
- Q. Do you have a flush toilet?
- A. In these days of bewildering uncertainties this is the one thing of which I can be sure.

What's It S'posed to Prove, Ma?

Back to the Caves

By ALICK DE MONTMORENCY

For many months the representatives of the world's three major nuclear powers have been haggling at Geneva over the effectiveness of a proposed ban on nuclear testing.

The chief block to an accord has been the question of underground testing—could such subsurface explosions be detected? Could a nuclear explosion in a huge, deep cave be identified as such and not be confused with the seismic evidences of an earthquake?

So after many centuries, caves are again in the forefront of military affairs.

At the dawn of human history, these natural fortresses, concealed deep in the flank of mountains or hillsides, were the object of a millennial struggle. At first it was between cave bears, their original discoverers and thick-limbed huge-headed Neanderthal men who wielded flaming torches against the big bruits.

Later, the fight was between the human-flesh-eating Neanderthal plug uglies and the gigantic Cro-Magnons, who poured into Europe from a mysterious southwesterly homeland.

Still later, in the 14th century, the forces of Queen Tamara of Georgia, using the network of communicating caverns of the Caucasus country as a war base, successfully defended their mountainous realm against the Mongol hordes of Tamerlane.

IN MODERN TIMES, caves have been important only to spelogists, explorers and archaeologists.

But today, due to the rapid advance of technology, military science has gone a full circle and caves—big, deep caves—are again a serious asset in power politics.

It's because of the possibility of muffling nuclear explosions by carrying them out underground in huge, secluded chambers. American and British atomic scientists, ballistic experts, seismologists and mining engineers have supplied information on the frequency and the intensity of earthquakes in different parts of the world and the reduction which the air cushion inside an underground compartment effects in the commotion caused by an explosion.

The number of quakes each year of sufficient intensity to be registered by a network of seismographs is estimated at around a million.

About 15,000 of them are shallow earthquakes with seismic amplitudes equivalent to those produced by detonating 1,000 tons or more TNT. About 5,000 are equal to or greater than a five kiloton (5,000 tons TNT) blast. And some 2,000 tremors each year are equivalent in force to a 20 kiloton blast or more—the force of the Hiroshima bomb.

Information gathered from the Rainier and Hardack atomic tests in 1957 and 1958 in Nevada showed that not only the telltale radioactivity resultant from a nuclear explosion can be contained underground but its very commotion can be muffled effectively.

A mathematical formula expressing this muffling indicates, for instance, that a Hiroshima-size blast, if carried out in the so-called Big Room or the Carlsbad Caverns, in the Guadalupe range of New Mexico, would be so muffled as to yield a seismic signal equivalent to that of an explosion of 300 tons TNT above ground. And such signals are not sufficient to allow experts to locate them, even if they used 100 seismographs in the immediate vicinity of the blast.

THE CARLSBAD Big Room is 4,000 feet long, 625 feet wide and 300 feet high and the mass of rock above it is about 800 feet thick. Thus there would be no risk of shattering the cavern in question, and still less of blowing its top off.

If the whole of the energy yielded by the atomic explosion were to be in the form of mechanical energy instead of being mainly heat and if the rock formations above and below were of absolute hardness, then the blast would lift the mass of rock immediately above—some billion tons—but only by about an inch.

However, in practice even the mechanical energy of the blast is quickly transformed into heat by the cushioning action of the air mass and of the rock walls, which heat tremendously—as a nail heats under a hammer blow.

A further fact brought out by the experts is that cavities of equivalent value to that of the Big Room or even better ones for muffling atomic blasts, could be created in a couple of years at a cost of between 10 million and 20 million dollars each and could be reused a number of times. In fact, a number of such artificial caverns have already been created in the United States and are used to store oil.

But even this delay and expense could be dispensed with by powers seeking to carry out secret tests and possessing sufficiently large and sufficiently deep natural caves. There are more than 1,300 known caves in the United States and Alaska and some of them have chambers larger than the Carlsbad Big Room.

Similarly, some of the world's biggest caves—especially in New Zealand—would be available to the British if they wished to carry out secret atomic tests, while France could use the great caves of the Sahara.

Russian and Chinese caves also are numbered in thousands and some of them are known to contain very large chambers. Perhaps the largest of these are in the Szechwan Province of southern China in one of which Prof. Von Koenigswald found the bones of 14-foot-tall "men" who lived in those parts a million years ago. The Rural Mountains and the Caucasus also are known to have large caverns.

Unfortunately, from the Western point of view, the available information on Russian and Chinese caves comes principally from archaeologists, who are mainly interested in the remnants of prehistoric civilizations and in bones of primitive men found in those underground habitations but relatively little in the size of the various compartments.

However, it is known that one of those compartments—the "Chamber of Giants" in the Ablaskhira Cave, in Abkhazia (Caucasus)—is big enough and deep enough to muffle an explosion of several kilotons of TNT or of its plutonium equivalent.

NEVERTHELESS, in this contest for large caves, the West would probably hold considerable advantage, thanks mainly to the San Pedro Cave in the Bolivian Andes, the biggest and deepest known and capable of muffling not only the kiloton explosions of mere atomic bombs but even the megaton blasts of the biggest hydrogen bombs produced to date.

The San Pedro cave lies under the Illampu Mountain and its only known entrance is near the little settlement of Sorata. Its biggest chamber is so large that even the biggest searchlights that could be brought in through its exiguous entrance could not reach its ceiling.

It is crossed by a stream and a lake and a French Jesuit who sailed up that stream found the cave extending into the very heart of the huge mountain. There an iron grillwork, typical of the 17th century Spanish wrought-iron lattice work, barred his progress toward the far end.

Lesson Up In Sky

By DAVID LAWRENCE

U.S. Leads Russia In Space Achievements

Maybe there's a lesson up in the sky as a small object, with a television camera inside, sends pictures and messages by radio from a height of 450 miles as it circles the earth every 99 minutes.

Too many people jumped to conclusions when the first Soviet Sputnik began circling the globe 18 months ago. They did not realize that scientific progress cannot be judged by a single project.

Even when the United States started sending out satellites, too, the criticism was made that, after all, the Russians had sent much heavier ones into space—as if weight was the sole criterion!

Now it turns out that American scientists were right in concentrating on scientific experiments rather than on stunts. For the United States today has nine satellites in outer space, while Russia has only three.

Also, the latest satellite sent up by American scientists, though weighing only 270 pounds, has in its scientific equipment never before placed into orbit.

The American achievement has prompted Sen. Lyndon Johnson, Democrat, chairman of the Senate's special committee on space problems, to exclaim that the launching of "Tirog I," with its television camera, is "the best space news we have had in a long time."

He added that this would be "a tremendous boon for mankind—a tremendous step toward peace."

IN WHAT WAY does a satellite in the air have anything to do with world peace?

The answer is that inspection of armament from the skies has long been a basic objective of President Eisenhower's disarmament proposals. This means that nations may be able to learn instantly by photographs about military preparations and activities of other nations.

It probably will be possible always to conceal certain weapons but any suspicious movement of large military forces or unusual concentration at bases can be detected from the air so as to give warning against a surprise attack.

The advantages of the earth-circling instruments are not by any means confined to the military side. There is a definite prospect that information will be collected about the origin of weather conditions so that advance data will enable the earth's inhabitants better to prepare against dangerous trends in the weather.

In this connection, Sen. Kenneth

Keating (R-N.Y.) who conducts a weekly television broadcast over a network of stations in New York State, was the other day interviewing Dr. T. Keith Glennan, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and ask him what was to be derived from the expenditure of millions of dollars for research into space. Dr. Glennan replied:

"I think it is only honest to say that we probably will have no economic benefits immediately from this activity but it is clear that we will have economic benefits in the long run, particularly in fields such as meteorology and the field of communications. . . . It's a new technology and as we devise new processes, new techniques, these come back into industry and really pay off."

DR. GLENNAN spoke of "Pioneer V," the satellite which, as of midnight April 5, had traveled 3,491,932 miles away from the earth and still is in communication. He added:

"We're getting information about the radiation fields in space. We're understanding a little bit more of the magnetic fields out in space. We're getting back very good information on the temperatures both inside the package and outside the package. I suppose the most important information, however, is the assurance that we have that we seem to be able to talk to this thing out there. . . ."

"I talk back. We talk to it, send it a signal, turn on the amplifier out in space and it sends back these coded bits of information which we then put through a computer. We were able to get temperatures and pressures and radiation information from 2 1/2 million miles out there. We expect to do this clear out to 50 million miles."

This particular project was approved in November 1958, after a lengthy study.

It has taken 16 months of heavy effort, according to Dr. Glennan, and the total cost is about 12 to 15 million dollars up to date.

"I don't think we're behind the Russians," remarks the head of America's space projects. He speaks of some Soviet superiority in the "thrust" in rocket systems but indicates that this can be surmounted soon. Here is his conclusion:

"In terms of the long-range benefits, in terms of the solid accomplishments that have come from these two programs (Russian and American), I think there is no question but what we're ahead."

In a few years there will be a man in outer space. But America's objective is not to perform stunts. It is to gather knowledge for the benefit of mankind.

Millions for Boo-Boos

By TRUMAN TWILL

It has been a long time since the Thanksgiving turkey went on the table last November without cranberries because the great and almighty federal government said a weed killer used by some cranberry growers could cause cancer in rats. But the memory lingers.

Some of us who are more reverent than we should be wondered about the logic and propriety of the great and almighty government's decision to handle this situation in a way to ruin cranberry growers. It crossed our minds that if the same thing had been done by a private source there would have been a suit for damages in nine digits.

When we inked our feeling, we were sat on hard by loyal buffs imbued with the doctrine that the great and almighty government can do no wrong, as long as it does whatever it's doing to some at the other end of the forest. Of course, if it's done at the end of the forest inhabited by the buffs, themselves, that's different. In that case, the government can be as wrong as anybody else.

So we had Thanksgiving without cranberries.

Then word got out that we might have to put up with women without lipstick, because it had been averred that some of the coloring in lipsticks could cause cancer in rats, too. In this case, as in the cranberry thing, it would be necessary to ingest the suspected substance in power-shovel gulps to make the thing a thing either is or it is not the kind of distinction that appeals to government bureaucrats. With them, a thing either is or it is not a violation of an official edict. There are no grays among the blacks and whites.

The prospect now is that cranberries will be back with us next fall and that women without lipstick will be no more numerous than they have been in the past. It is assumed, in the absence of word to the contrary, that matters which is the way some of us thought they should have been worked out in the first place, with no hysteria.

But in the meantime the U.S. Department of Agriculture is going to pay millions of dollars of indemnity to cranberry growers who took losses through no fault of theirs last year when the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare teed off on cranberries that might conceivably have been sprayed by something that could cause cancer in rats.

Since it was the Department of Agriculture that had certified the spraying substance as safe in the first place and the cranberry growers had taken its word, it seems only fair that it should pay the indemnity. But the indemnity, actually, will be paid by citizens of the United States who were the go is of this bundle.

The citizens will be lucky if they get out of it for 10 million dollars. That is only an estimate of the total that will be distributed among cranberry growers who can prove there was nothing wrong with their produce, except that it ran afoul of public hysteria.

It would be many times higher than 10 million if it had been done by someone else. There would have been a damage suit that would have been a disaster to the member of the judicial department of the great and almighty government, to make certain that everything was tied up tight.

That's the way it seemed to some of us irreverent customers it should have been last November when the damage was done. But the Department of Agriculture is going to pay the money voluntarily, which is better. It takes guts for the government to admit it pulled a boo-boo, and if 10 million dollars isn't a handsome gesture we taxpayers who put up the money for all boo-boos don't know what it feels like to pay till it hurts.

Lisbon Social Notes

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church met Tuesday night at the church with 75 in attendance.

Mrs. R. T. Mason, president, presided over the business. Election of officers was held with Mrs. Mason retained as president; Mrs. Raymond Moore, vice president; Mrs. Paul Eells, secretary; and Miss Carol Hiscox, treasurer.

Mrs. William Loudon led the devotions, and Mrs. Roy Welsh was in charge of the program. A trio, Misses Rhoda Ann Applegate, Jean Sue Feisley and Shirley Ritchy of West Point, presented two vocal numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Welsh at the piano.

Mrs. Welsh gave a review of the book, "African on Safari." A vocal solo, "The Hands of Jesus" was given by Mrs. Eells.

Following the program, a birthday tea was held in the social room. The 12 tables were decorated to represent each month of the year. Guests were seated in accordance with their birthday month. Songs were sung by each table group.

Mrs. Frances Hiscox, Mrs. Ruth

Walton, Mrs. Mary Kirk and Mrs. Marjorie Moore served on the lunch committee.

THE HARMONY CLUB was entertained Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Lydia Burnip of S. Lincoln Ave.

Two tables of $20 were in play, with prizes won by Mrs. Marian Morris and Miss Sadie Pannier. Mrs. Kenneth Hult was a guest.

Lunch was served by the hostess. Mrs. Flora Virden will receive the club April 19 at the home of Mrs. Ollie Carnes of N. Beaver St.

Mrs. Richard Beidler, wife of the pastor of Yellow Creek Presbyterian Church of Wellsville, was the principal speaker when the Women's Association of Trinity United Presbyterian Church met Tuesday night in the church.

Mrs. Beidler showed color slides of Pressly Memorial Institute at Assiut, Egypt, where she was a missionary teacher for three years. She also displayed various Egyptian items of clothing, jewelry and pottery.

Mrs. George Nace led the devotions, and Mrs. W. A. Frew was at the piano for group singing.

Lunch was served by the Jane Smith Missionary Society.

AREA RESIDENTS ARE reminded to keep open the date April 22 in order to attend the "Spring Fiesta" sponsored by Iva Chapter 311, OES.

This will be a public smorgasbord dinner to be held in the dining room of the Methodist Church, with servings at 5, 6 and 7 p.m. Music and gay decorations will also prevail. Six hundred persons are expected.

Tickets will be available from members of the Masonic bodies of Eastern Stars.

The Social Notebook

A DONATION to the Oddfellows Home in Springfield was approved by Home Rebekah Lodge at their meeting Tuesday evening.

Members were reminded of the benefit to be held April 16 at Weir's Wallpaper Store.

The Ohio Rebekah Assembly was announced for April 24 to 29 in Columbus. It was reported that Mrs. Louise Swope of Columbus was recently elected treasurer of the Ohio Assembly.

A 50-year member will be honored at the Lodge's mother-daughter coverdish supper May 17.

The Past Noble Grand Association meeting will be held April 21 instead of April 14 because of Holy Week.

The hostesses for the April 19 meeting are Mrs. Walter Whitcomb, Mrs. George Stapleton and Mrs. Emmor Greene.

AN ANNIVERSARY dinner was planned when the Mary Ellen Tent, Daughters of Union Veterans met Tuesday evening at the Knights of Pythias Hall.

The coverdish dinner is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. May 17 at the hall.

The following readings were presented: "Easter Prayer" by Mrs. John Kerr, "Easter Thoughts" by Mrs. John Litty and "Comment" by Mrs. Mary Robinson.

THE GOSHEN Extension Club met Tuesday afternoon at Goshen Grange Hall, with 22 members and five children present.

Mrs. Harry Camp presided at the business meeting, and announced the Mahoning County Achievement Day has been set for April 26 at the North Jackson Federated Church. Reservations must be made with her by April 18.

Mrs. Thomas Frantz gave a report on "legal advice." A cake decorating demonstration was presented by Mrs. Willard Headland Sr.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Jay Bricker and Mrs. Harry Behner.

A seed and plant exchange will highlight the May 3 meeting at the grange hall.

NAOMI ALTHEA WILSON, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Wilson of RD 3, Salem, was feteed at a dinner recently in honor of her fifth birthday anniversary.

The table was laid for 30 relatives. Centering the table was a four-tiered cake, decorated in green, yellow red and pink rosebuds, which was baked by her aunt, Mrs. Paul Wilson. Mrs. Elmer Barrett assisted the hostess. Naomi received many gifts.

TWENTY TABLES were in play at the Women's Association of Salem Golf card party Tuesday afternoon.

A tea highlighted the afternoon's activities. Card prizes were awarded at each table.

Mrs. Robert Oswald, social chairman, planned the event, assisted by Mrs. John Hochadel, Mrs. Richard Coe, Mrs. Ralph Martin

Confirmation At Trinity Lutheran Church Scheduled

Confirmation services will be held Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service in Holy Trinity English Lutheran Church.

There are 16 members in the class who have completed two years of instruction in the Holy Bible, the doctrines of the church and the practices and liturgical worship of the Lutheran Church.

They are Susan Jane Anderson, Penny Darlene Balan, Susan Kay Beck, Charles Calvin Cosma, Mary Ellen Garrett, James Allen Keck, Jodale Kilbreath, Jayne Warner Meier, Elaine Bobbie Miles, Hilton Howe Moffett, Linda Kay Nedelka, Richard Allen Philippi, Patty Carol Schrom, Bonnie Kay Youtz, Lois Diane Whinnery and Paul John Wukotich.

The pastor, the Rev. George Keister, will conduct a brief review of the two years instruction before the service of Confirmation. The Confirmands will receive their first Holy Communion Easter Sunday.

Pews will be reserved for the parents of the class members.

Fairfield Methodist Family Night Set

FAIRFIELD — The annual family night program for the congregation of the East Fairfield Methodist Church is planned for Friday evening at 8 at the church, with the Beacon Light Sunday School Class in charge.

The program will open with piano selections by Eileen Grim. Dr. Theodore C. Mayer, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Warren, will highlight the program by speaking and showing slides of his trip to Russia.

Floyd Albright will serve as the master of ceremonies. A piano duet will be presented by David and Paul Morris. Other musical selections will be provided by the Methodist Youth Fellowship and Sunday School classes.

Lunch will be served after the program. Mrs. Ralph Elliott is general chairman for the event.

Honored At College

Lloyd Fitzpatrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fitzpatrick of the Depot Road, is one of the 11 new initiates of Phi Sigma national biological honorary society at Mount Union College.

The object of Phi Sigma is to promote interest in the field of biological research. A student is selected on the basis of scholastic achievement. A senior geology major, Fitzpatrick is the president of Geology Club. His fraternity is Sigma Nu.

Allen West, Director of Goshen Band, to Make Trip to Europe

Allen F. West, band director at Goshen Union High School, has accepted an invitation to be a member of the second annual band directors and educational leaders goodwill journey to Europe and the Soviet Union.

The invitation came as a result of his recently being elected to membership in the American School Band Directors Association. The tour is being headed by Erling B. Handson, band director at Manchester High School, Manchester, Iowa. The journey is designed and arranged to implement the United States Cultural Visitation program and President Eisenhower's "People to People" campaign.

The delegation will consist of 30 band directors from various parts of the U.S. The purpose of the tour is to arrange for a group of music instructors and educational leaders to carry a message of goodwill to the music instructors and educational leaders in other countries.

To Wed Salem Man

Miss Roberta L. Kullman

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon J. Kullman of 2161 So. 91 East Ave., Tulsa, Okla. announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Roberta Louise, to Joseph D. Potts Jr. of 6812 14th Ave. South, Minneapolis, Minn., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Potts Sr. of 155 S. Union Ave.

The wedding is being planned for June 4 at 9 a.m. in Madeline Catholic Church in Tulsa, with the Rev. Fr. T. Biller of St. Pius X Church officiating.

Miss Kullman will graduate in May from Will Rogers High School in Tulsa. Mr. Potts, a Salem High School graduate, served four years in the Air Force, completing his duty in October, 1957. He graduated from the Spartan School of Aeronautics in Tulsa, and is now employed by the North Central Airlines in Minneapolis.

Book Club Enjoys Tea, Program

Forty-five members and guests of the Salem Book Club enjoyed a program and tea Monday afternoon in the Ruth Smucker House.

Mrs. Ralph Long Sr. gave the opening prayer, and Mrs. Oliver Davis sang two solos, "I Walk Today Where Jesus Walked" and "God's Garden of Beautiful Flowers." She was accompanied by Mrs. Glen Davis.

A demonstration in coloring Easter eggs was given by Mrs. Nicholas Costa.

Mrs. Ralph Woods gave an interesting talk about the Black Hills Passion Play, which is given each summer in South Dakota. She said the Meier Family brought the play to the United States from Germany in 1939. She further commented on the fact that this is the seventh generation of the family to present this passion play.

The tea table, covered with green, was overlaid with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of spring flowers and yellow candles. A small basket of crocus blooms was an accessory.

Mrs. J. S. Hollinger and Mrs. Ralph Woods poured. The hostess committee was comprised of Mrs. G. W. Smith, Mrs. L. S. Hollinger, Mrs. W. D. King, Mrs. E. S. Vincent and Mrs. Warren Brown. Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, will be speaker at the April 18 meeting in the Smucker House.

$386,427 Suit Filed As Result of Death Of Couple In Crash

DETROIT (AP)—Two men and a Chicago firm were sued for $386,427 in U.S. District Court Wednesday in the Michigan highway collision deaths of an Ohio University couple last Christmas season.

The deaths orphaned three children. The suit was brought on behalf of the children and the estate of the parents.

William D. Lash, 25, engineering instructor at Ohio University at Athens, Ohio, and his wife, Patricia, 28, a university medical technician, suffered fatal injuries in a collision Dec. 30 on U.S. 16 near Williamstown.

The Lashes, accompanied by their children, Amy, 4; Andrew, 3; and Bryan, 1, were on their way to spend holidays with relatives in Dearborn. The children survived the crash.

The Lash car collided with one driven by Richard E. Lautzenheiser, 42, Inkster, Mich., a sales representative for the Sanford Ink Co. of Chicago.

Defendants in the suit are Lautzenheiser, the Sanford company, and Aaron E. Roberts of Chicago, from whom the company had leased the car driven by Lautzenheiser.

Lautzenheiser is charged with driving too fast and on the wrong side of the road.

The suit was brought by Prof. Carl Shermer of Ohio University on behalf of the parents' estate and Richard W. Lash of Buffalo, N. Y., on behalf of the children. The latter is a grandfather of the children. The children now live with relatives in West Islip, N. Y.

Ohio Soldier Dies In Parachute Jump

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—Pvt. Jerry L. Gill, 19, was killed and 16 other jumpers were injured Wednesday in a parachute jump during the third phase of Operation Quick Strike.

Gill's next of kin was listed as his father, James E. Gill of Jacksontown (Licking County), Ohio. The youth starred on the Lynwood-Jacksontown basketball team that reached the state high school finals in 1959.

Officials said Gill's parachute lines became twisted and he neglected to pull his reserve chute. The injured jumpers required only minor treatment, they added.

Maj. Gen. W. C. Westmoreland led 500 men of his command, the 101st Airborne Division, in the jump. The exercise continues through April 14 with the action moving to Camp Breckenridge Thursday.

FOUND DEAD AFTER FIRE

WOODSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Jerome Thomas, 60, a Clarington dentist, was found dead by firemen Wednesday, slumped in an easy chair in front of his television set after a flash fire swept through his living room. Neither the cause of the fire nor his death was determined, officials said.

NAMED FIRE CHIEF

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—William Sanders, 42, is Ironton's new fire chief. He succeeds John McGerty who retired March 28 after 31 years' service with the department, officials announced Wednesday.

Outstanding Young Farmers In U.S. Named by Jaycees

Four young men, whose personal achievements demonstrate clearly that farming can be a satisfying and rewarding occupation, were named America's Four Outstanding Young Farmers of 1959 by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce at a banquet Wednesday night at Bakersfield, Calif.

The four men selected were: J. B. Kelly, 31, Socorro, N.M., who overcame a five-year drought and an early freeze, which virtually wiped out his entire cotton crop at a critical period in the development of his farming enterprise, to mold together a model, 41,480-acre farm ranch.

Merrill Brown, 35, Thermopolis, Wyo., cattle and sheep rancher. His many new ideas in farm management, livestock breeding, and development have received wide acclaim and have proved beneficial to other farmers in his area as well.

Ralph R. Wier, 35, Lacon, Ill., grain, livestock and poultry farmer. Rejected from military service because of a heart condition. Wier remained in the rigorous occupation of farming to carve an enviable record as a farm operator. His main interest outside farming is helping delinquent youngsters become useful citizens.

Robert V. Call Jr., 33, Batavia, N.Y., poultry, grain and vegetable farmer, who, since graduation from Cornell University, has effected many changes on his 1,525-acre spread — all resulting in a more modern, efficient and profitable operation.

These four were selected from among 49 farmers, all below 36 years of age, who earlier this year had been selected tops in their respective states. Judging of the finalists was done by a panel of nine agricultural experts.

Kennedy Humphrey Prepare For Rematch In W. Virginia

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—Those Democrats who are bent on stopping Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) or at least slowing him down before the July 11 national convention will get their next big change in West Virginia.

But the result either way will be largely psychological since no delegates will be bound.

Campaigning begins this week-end in a rematch between Kennedy and the man he topped two days ago in the Wisconsin presidential primary, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.).

There Kennedy won 20 1/2 and Humphrey 10 1/2 of Wisconsin's 31 convention votes. But results of West Virginia's May 10 primary election will not be binding on the delegates who will cast this state's 25 votes.

There aren't many known supporters of either Kennedy or Humphrey among those running for delegate. And political observers say they don't expect that situation to change, regardless of the outcome of the May 10 voting.

Humphrey will go on the road first. His campaign bus is due to leave here early Friday morning for a swing through southern West Virginia.

Kennedy will begin stumping Monday, also with a series of appearances in the southern part of the state. But already his two brothers, Robert and Ted, are meeting here with campaign workers. Flying in from Wisconsin Wednesday, Robert Kennedy said his brother would consider "a bare majority" as a major victory in West Virginia.

The nonbinding race here after the Wisconsin verdict would be like having batting practice after the crucial game, except for two things:

1. The prospect that overwhelmingly Protestant West Virginia will furnish a truer test than Wisconsin of the religious issue which arises because Kennedy is a Roman Catholic.

2. The fact that this is the next-to-last big chance his party foes will have to upset the Kennedy bandwagon in a primary. Not until the Oregon voting May 20 will Kennedy again go against serious opposition. Entered in the Democratic primary there along with Kennedy and Humphrey are Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, and Sen. Wayne L. Morse of Oregon.

A solid Kennedy victory here might do for him what his Wisconsin victory did not. It might dispel the fear felt by some party professionals that Kennedy, as a Catholic, could not win in November against the Republican nominee, almost certain to be Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Record for American Politics

Wisconsin Primary Results 'Encourage' All Three Entries

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Wisconsin primary was a mish-mash. It proved nothing. Yet all three entries, no matter how they finished, said they felt encouraged. That ought to set some kind of record for American politics.

Take Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), who ran first in the state's Democratic presidential primary with more than 472,000 votes.

He was described as elated although he had been favored to win and could have done better.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), his rival in the Democratic contest, got about 372,000 votes, or more than 106,000 less than Kennedy.

But he was encouraged because he hadn't done worse.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, unopposed in the Republican presidential primary part of the election, got only 341,000 votes.

Nixon interpreted his third-place vote as "surprisingly large."

He went even further and told Republicans around the country to look for a Republican victory in the presidential election in Wisconsin in November.

Then guess what Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee said.

He said Wisconsin would go Democratic in November.

And his opposite number, Sen. Thruston B. Morton, chairman of the GOP National Committee, said the vote for Nixon was the greatest vote ever given an unopposed candidate in the Wisconsin primary.

The White House said: "No comment."

What does it all add up to?

Lisbon Grange Wins Ritualistic Contest

District grange drill and ritualistic contests were held Wednesday evening at Freeport High School.

Perry Grange Youth Drill Team won first place in the competition and will participate in state finals April 30 in Fredericktown High School.

Lisbon Grange placed third in the ritualistic work.

Beaver Mothers Club Makes Party Plans

LISBON — Beaver Local Public School's Mothers Club met Wednesday at the school. Mrs. Betty Hilden, president, presided.

Plans were made for the sixth grade party to be held Friday, April 22 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

The next meeting will be a coverd luncheon at noon May 4 at the school and will be the last meeting for this school term.

BUYS DAYTON SPEEDWAY

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — George Flanagan Jr., president of Air City Distributing Co. of Dayton, has bought the Dayton Speedway for $85,000. The purchase was made at a receivership auction in Montgomery County Common Pleas Court. Flanagan said races will continue at the track this summer.

Nixon might have done much better if he had gone into Wisconsin to campaign for himself. But he didn't and it was the Democratic contest which got the attention.

Under other conditions in the same state—with just one Democratic entry who, like Nixon, didn't campaign — Nixon might have done far better.

Yet, there's a chance the big Democratic vote and the low-man-on-the-totem-pole spot Nixon landed in may indicate broad Wisconsin discontent with the Republicans and be the forerunner of a nationwide discontent which can't be expressed till November.

On the other hand Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, no doubt owes a big part of his vote to Catholics, both Democrats and Republicans, since Wisconsin is 30 per cent Catholic.

But when he runs in West Virginia May 10 against Humphrey, in the presidential primary there, there'll be very little Catholic vote to help him since the Catholics in West Virginia total about only 5 per cent of the population.

Perhaps Kennedy would have won the way he did in Wisconsin even if he had been a Protestant and maybe the anti-Catholic sentiment that showed itself against Al Smith in 1928 has died out in this country.

And a heavy vote against Kennedy in Protestant West Virginia might not prove any anti-Catholic sentiment at all but something unrelated.

For instance: West Virginia is not a prosperous state and the people there might feel a closer kinship to Humphrey, a relatively poor man, than to the young millionaire, Kennedy.

What the Wisconsin vote he got means for Humphrey is hard to say. Perhaps, since he got a good turnout in many rural districts, the nation's farmers are fed up with the Eisenhower administration's farm policies.

Or, it could mean only that the farmers felt Humphrey talked language better than Kennedy, since he comes from next-door Minnesota.

Actually the Kennedy - Humphrey race was more a personal popularity contest than a choice between the different ideas the two men stand for. They stand for pretty much the same ideas.

men for the Afrikaner community, the descendants of the country's early Dutch settlers.

Verwoerd so far has refused to treat with the Negro leaders.

Motivated By Economy Pinch

The business leaders were motivated by a double pinch on the South African economy: the labor shortage resulting from Negro workers staying at home in protest against the government, and the effect on sales abroad of boycotts of South African goods and the threat of more foreign sanctions.

In open defiance of widespread world opinion and local appeals for moderation, the government announced a revival of the hated passes for nonwhites — The immediate issue that sparked off the racial rioting.

The government gave some indication of trying to make the pass system more palatable to the Negroes. Protest demonstrations against the identity papers three weeks ago drew police fire that killed 72 Negroes.

Suspended Requirements

In the uproar that followed the slayings the government suspended its requirement that all Negroes moving about in such "white" areas as the nation's big cities must carry passbooks giving their identification, place of work and other personal details.

Justice Minister F. C. Erasmus said Wednesday, in announcing reinstatement of the pass requirement, that the government might consider applying the laws "in such a way as to put more stress upon the advantage they hold for Negroes." He did not elaborate.

pick him up and he wasn't going to be taken alive.

"He threatened all of us and said he would kill us if we didn't do what he said," Widener added.

Invaded Three Homes

Brown invaded three homes. Going from house to house, he made his hostages walk ahead at gunpoint, deputies said.

In each house he searched for guns and ammunition, shot out windows and smashed television sets.

Widener was forced from his home, and Mrs. Genora Barnes, Mrs. Villian Goddard, and 6-month-old Lisa Dunwiddie were taken from the Barnes residence and herded into the home of Blenn Sutton. Mrs. Goddard is Mrs. Barnes' aunt, and the child is Mrs. Barnes' granddaughter. Widener is Mrs. Sutton's father.

"He told us he had been in a penitentiary, a mental hospital and had received a dishonorable discharge from the Air Force," said Mrs. Barnes.

Mrs. Barnes said while Brown was holding his hostages he sent her to his home to get the whiskey from a basement refrigerator.

"I cooperated so no one would get hurt," she said.

Sent To Summon Police

Later, Brown sent Mrs. Sutton to summon police. When police failed to appear immediately, Brown sent Widener to call again.

Widener said Brown shot at him but missed as he was going down the road.

Police from nearby Minerva, sheriff's deputies and state highway patrolmen were called out, but Minerva chief William Hawk said the hostages all had been released by the time he arrived.

The chief said Brown fired several shots from the windows. When police fired a couple of shots, Brown waved a white flag "from a shotgun barrel stuck through a hole in the window of the back door," Hawk said.

While waiting to be taken to Stark County jail, Brown smashed a police cruiser window with his head.

Brown's father is in charge of the composing room at the Review, and his mother operates a linotype machine.

8 Attend Meeting Of Police Chiefs Assn.

Eight persons attended a meeting of the Columbiana County Police Chiefs and Sheriffs Assn. on Wednesday night at the county jail in Lisbon.

Discussion was continued on utilizing a road block system in event of emergencies or crimes. Police Chief Americo Radeschi of East Liverpool, president, was in charge. The next meeting is slated May 4.

Deaths, Funerals

Perry Callahan

Perry Callahan, 83, died at 8:45 p.m. Wednesday at the County Home.

Born in Greenford, Nov. 28, 1876, he was the son of Mathias and Fannie Hahn Callahan.

He attended the Greenford Lutheran Church.

Survivors include a brother, Emmor Callahan of Salem; and a niece, Mrs. Helen Crider of Washingtonville.

Services will be held Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Stark Memorial. The Rev. George D. Keister of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church will officiate, with interment in the Greenford Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Memorial Friday evening.

Charles E. Cook

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Grindle of Canfield Road that Charles E. Cook, 95, a former Salem resident and at one time Chief of Police here died on Wednesday in Vancouver, Wash., where he had been residing with his grandson, Charles.

His wife, the former Cora Stahl, and their son, Leland, preceded him in death.

Icy Roads Cause Traffic Accidents

Two of four accidents investigated by the Lisbon State Highway Patrol Post yesterday were caused by unseasonal ice conditions.

The accidents occurred at 7:40 a.m. and 8:15 a.m. Patrolmen said the earlier accident occurred when a car driven by Brenda Ruggles, 18, of Berlin Center slid on ice, went off the road and hit an embankment. She was driving on Rt. 14 about two miles north of the Mahoning County line when the mishap occurred.

In the later accident, Francis Hamill, 48, of Pittsburgh slid into a parked truck on Rt. 30 about a mile and a half north of East Liverpool.

Edith Bowen, 34, of East Liverpool was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance after her car collided with one driven by Lillian McDaniels, 50, of RD 2, Lisbon. The accident happened on Rt. 267, a half-mile north of East Liverpool, at 8:30 a.m.

At 8:20 a.m. on Rt. 7, autos driven by Urban Petros, 31, Toronto, and Charles Holsinger, 17, of Rogers, collided. The mishap occurred six miles south of Rogers.

Maras Files Motion For Another Trial

A motion for a new trial was filed Wednesday afternoon by James H. Maras, 20, of Warren, convicted of the armed robbery of Barnes Motel, west of Salem, Dec. 11.

The three-day period for filing for a new trial ended April 2 but Maras' attorney reported he was delayed because of illness. He also requested suspension of sentence until the motion for a new trial is heard and ruled upon by the court.

Both motions are expected to be heard Friday at 1 p.m. by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Fire Causes $600 Damage to Home

Damages amounting to about $600 were caused by fire in the home of Floyd Roberts, MC 1, Salem Township, at 6:15 p.m. Wednesday.

Fire Chief Clarence Wright said the damage was caused by fire, smoke and water. Fire damage was confined to the living room, he said.

The home is a four-room frame bungalow. Nobody was home when the fire broke out. Chief Wright said cause of the blaze was an overheated coal furnace.

Goshen Junior Class to Present Comedy

GOSHEN PLAY CAST — Leading characters in the Goshen High School junior class play production of "Father Knows Best" are shown at a rehearsal session early this week. Seated on the couch is John Herbert who is cast in the role of Father. Lying on the floor is Jim Rudibaugh. The girls are: (l. to r.) Pat Capel, Patty Rhodes and Norma Phillips.

The junior class at Goshen High School will present its annual play production, "Father Knows Best," Friday and Saturday nights at the high school in Damascus.

Both performances are scheduled for 8:15 p.m.

"Father Knows Best" is a three-act comedy which is derived from the television program of the same title. Members of the cast have been rehearsing for the last month. They gave a matinee performance today for the grade school students.

Mrs. Frances Shaffer, speech teacher at Goshen, is directing the cast.

The part of Father, played by Robert Young on television, will be portrayed by John Herbert. Patty Capel is cast as Margaret Anderson, the mother.

Betty, Bud and Cathy will be characterized by Norma Phillips, Jim Rudibaugh and Patty Rhodes, respectively.

Other members of the cast are Midge Kerr, Marge Denny, Doris Ewing, Gary Birkhimer, Bob Doyle, Tim Sanders, Walter Greenamyer, Joe Meissner, Mary Whaley, Sharon Mapes, Nancy Stuckey and Linda Sanor.

A Pottstown, Pa., realtor offered them a home as a gift, and a neighbor offered to build them a three-room bungalow free but the couple didn't want to leave because as Mrs. Reitnauer put it: "I wouldn't be happy anywhere but here."

Wednesday, however, Annie realized it could be dangerous staying in the home. "At night now we can hear the stone and cement falling and the boards creaking back and forth," she said.

So the couple agreed to take up the neighbor's offer to build the three-room bungalow with the stipulation it be constructed on their once-productive 50-acre farm which is virtually worthless now. Neighbors say the Reitnauers need everything but they are happy and content.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I've been going steady with Rick for eight months. For my birthday he gave me a $3 bracelet. For his birthday I gave him a bill fold which cost $3.50 and I spent an extra $2 to put my picture in it.

For Christmas he gave me a framed portrait of himself which he said cost $6. (I think it was less.) I gave him a pair of gloves which cost $7.

On Valentine's Day he gave me a box of candy which I found out sold for $2. I was very disappointed as I bought him a $5 key chain.

After thinking it over, it seems that I must like him more than he likes me. Do you agree? Please help me see things clearly. — CORA.

opinion you have nothing to lose and much to gain.

Lesson In Tolerance

Dear Ann: I can't be objective about this so my wife suggested I write to you.

My older sister is unpleasant and disagreeable. She has very few friends and is on bad terms with all the relatives.

For the past several years my wife and I have made it a practice to call on her Christmas Day and take gifts. She always has gifts for us when we arrive.

We never fail to drop her a thank you note. She has yet to phone or drop a line saying she liked our presents. Our children feel hurt because they save out of their allowance to buy their aunt a gift they hope she will like.

Should we cross her off our list or ignore her rudeness? — BELLYFUL.

Dear Bellyful: Keep her on your list as a lesson in tolerance and understanding for your children. Let them learn to treat people nicely and to do the right thing — regardless of what others may do.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Thorns In Romance

Dear Ann. A widower nearly 60 has been attentive to me for more than a year. I care a great deal for him.

He hasn't told me so himself but I've heard from others that he'd like to marry me but his children are against it. They don't object to me as a person. They just don't want me to come into any of their father's estate if he should die before I do.

I have a nice income of my own and don't need this man's money. I'd be perfectly willing to sign a pre-marital agreement which would leave everything to his children. All I want is his love and companionship.

How can I tell him so without appearing to be rushing him into marriage? — PREDICAMENT.

Dear Predicament: Unless you speak another language fluently, tell him in English.

If he's interested in your company on a dating basis only, you'll find out promptly. You can then decide whether or not you want to continue. In my

PRISON LIFER DIES

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Charles Farmer, serving a life sentence in Ohio Penitentiary for a slaying in Ironton, died Wednesday in the prison hospital. Complication of a self-inflicted wound, made after the killing, caused his death, officials added.

Farmer, 42, fatally shot Mrs. Alice Adkins, 41, in Ironton's Virginia Hotel May 8, 1959. Farmer, manager of the hotel, quarreled with the woman when she said she was returning to her Raceland, Ky., home. He shot her, then wounded himself in the right eye. He was admitted to the penitentiary last Nov. 4.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M.D.

Records Show Nonsmokers Healthier

Before home run sluggers took over the spotlight in professional baseball, "Wee Willie" Keeler was one of the Yankees' most feared batters. A little man who used a small bat that he gripped a few inches up the shaft, "Wee Willie" regularly out-hit most big fellows who brandished wagon tongues and "swang from the heels."

When asked to explain his success, Keeler modestly remarked that he made it a point to hit the ball "where they ain't," meaning, of course, to the parts of the diamond not patrolled by opposing fielders.

Dr. H. T. Hyman

NOW THE KEELER method is sometimes used in medical practice. When the bedside physician is unable to establish a positive diagnosis, he may go the long way around and check the conditions his patient hasn't got.

And this same technique of diagnosis by exclusion may be used by an investigator who tries to solve a problem by eliminating each possible solution that comes to mind.

Recently the Keeler method was used by Drs. Wynder and Lemon of the U.S. Public Health Service in an effort to determine the relationship between smoking and the development of lung cancer and of coronary artery disease.

BY THE INGENIOUS device of comparing the hospital records of 8,792 nonsmoking Seventh Day Adventists with similar records of a like group of Californians, the investigators sought to discover what disease the non-smokers did not have or rarely had.

Making due allowances for the 6 per cent of Adventists who violated the religious ban on smoking and for other differences that must prevail in any comparison of any two groups of human beings, the investigation revealed that cancer of the lung, mouth, and throat (larynx) and gullet occurred at least 9 per cent less often in the Adventists than in the associated general population although each group was equally exposed to smog.

A similar decrease in the incidence of coronary disease, especially in younger men, was also noted.

REPRESENTATIVES of the Tobacco Institute were quick to point out this study does nothing to provide positive evidence of the "guilt of smoking."

It does furnish circumstantial evidence, however, that impresses a "jury" — especially if they are passing judgment on a matter vitally concerning their own health and welfare.

GETS ANOTHER CHANCE

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — A 17-year-old Harding High School senior, sentenced to the Boys' Industrial School for striking a teacher in the eye, was given another chance Wednesday. Juvenile Court Judge Bruce P. Henderson, who talked to the youth at the detention home, suspended the sentence, ordering the youth to pay any medical expenses incurred by Richard Hayes, a vocational teacher at Harding High. Judge Henderson said he thinks the boy "is so sorry... that he deserves another chance."

SHOPPING CENTER PLANNED

CLEVELAND (AP)—Plans for a 12½ million dollar shopping center in suburban Pepper Pike were announced Wednesday, less than a week after the start of construction in the same area of the 3 million dollar Village Square shopping center. If approved by the Pepper Pike Council, the proposed center would be almost adjacent to the other one.

The developers of the proposed center, headed by Frank H. Porter of the Central Cadillac Co. of Cleveland, said theirs will be the largest and most complete in Greater Cleveland, providing parking space for 3,000 cars.

Segregation In Churches Hit

Effect on Africans Cited by Graham

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Graham says that Africans so far have not been widely aware that racial segregation exists in American churches—but they're finding out, and it's dealing a hard blow to the Christian cause.

This is among the major conclusions that the globe-trotting evangelist drew on his 10-week African tour from which he returned last week.

Outlining his impressions in an interview, he said the foes of Christianity are busy picturing it as a "white man's religion."

"This is Christianity's biggest stumbling block in Africa," he said.

Gesturing for emphasis, he went on:

"The segregated churches and church institutions in America are becoming known to African leaders. They can't believe it. They can't take it in. They're astounded to hear that Christian institutions bar a man on the basis of color."

Graham, who refuses to hold any meetings where segregation is required, said the African trip strengthened his conviction that Christianity must free itself of racial restrictions.

Graham, a Southern Baptist, stressed that the issue in America is not a regional one, but applies almost equally North and South. "Ninety per cent of all our churches are segregated," he said.

If America churches are to render effective missionary help in Africa, he added, "they're going to have to rethink their own segregation policies. They've got to realize that 70 per cent of the world is colored."

He said "more and more Christian leadership is being turned over to the Africans themselves. It's not missionary policy that counts any more, but African policy."

"Nearly all Anglican bishops there are Africans. The Southern Baptists have the finest indigenous work I've seen. The Catholic church in naming an African cardinal made a wise move."

As for the quality of African pastors and church leaders, Graham said "they are terrific. They are men who would be leaders anywhere."

Graham said Christianity's main challenge in Africa is Islam, which has "successfully identified itself with dark-skinned people," and "is making seven converts to every one made by Christianity." Moslems are effectively using the press and mass evangelism, he said, and they point to American church segregation. "It's a very telling point."

Girl Retracts Story Of How Tot Was Killed

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A 7-year-old Akron girl has retracted a story she gave police five days ago that a fast moving green car struck and killed 17-month-old Warren Nelson Jr. in front of his home. Officials said Wednesday the child was killed accidentally when a car driven by John Williams, 35, of Akron, backed out of the Nelson driveway. The girl said she did not want Williams to get into trouble.

Williams said he did not know he had hit the child, because the drive was bumpy. Summit County Prosecutor's Assistant George Pappas said no charges would be filed.

Grady's Eliminates Salem Davidson From Tournament

Locals Handed 84-69 Drubbing

Blapp-Coombs Beats Mark's; Sebring Wins

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

Davidson Sales & Service of Salem and Mark's Landing of Guilford Lake were among the four teams bumped from the Invitational Basketball Tournament at United High School Wednesday night.

Grady's Restaurant trampled Davidson Sales 84-69, and Mark's took a 62-40 drubbing from powerful Blapp-Coombs of Cleveland.

In other games last night Sebring Hoopes Confectionary took a hard fought 73-69 decision from Minerva Harsh Billiards, and Freed and Hays eliminated Cornetti A.C. of Beaver, Pa., by an 80-66 score.

GRADY'S FEATURING Wampum High School stars plus John Swogger of Geneva College, simply had too many guns for Davidson Sales. The entire starting five for Grady's hit in double figures.

Novalesi with 24 and Swogger with 19 were the top point-getters for Grady's. Jerry Suess tossed in 21 to lead the Salem team. Mandish was close behind with 19. Bill Davidson added 13 and Jerry Hendricks, 10 for the losers.

After trailing 22-8 after the first period the Salem team battled back in the second quarter and cut Grady's lead to 41-34 at halftime. However, the winners pulled away again in the second half.

MARK'S LANDING was no match for the Cleveland Blapp-Coombs quintet. The rangy Clevelanders jumped on top 16-7 in the first period and were never in danger.

Havty and Sawchic collected 16 points apiece to pace Cleveland. Mark's threw nine men into the fray and all of them broke into the man's nine points were high for Mark's.

The most hotly contested tilt of the night was the Hoopes Confectionary - Harsh Billiards battle. Hoopes' lineup was sprinkled with Mount Union College players while the Harsh quintet consisted mainly of Minerva High School cagers who led the Lions to the Tri-County League championship this year.

MINERVA WAS UNABLE to find a defense to stop T. Schaffer of Hoopes and this proved to be the downfall of the high school cagers. Schaffer poured in 17 goals and a foul for 35 points. The previous night Schaffer hit 40 points against the Canton Catholic Youth Council.

His 75 points in two games has put him far out in front for scoring honors in the tourney. Schaffer has amassed this total despite the fact that he has registered only once from the foul line.

Portorski, an all-Ohio eager from Carrollton, kept Minerva in the game with a 32-point scoring effort. Ron Hardgrove, top scorer in the Tri-County League this season, added 18 markers for the Minerva team.

FREED AND HAYS gave notice last night that it is a team to be reckoned with in the tourney after their impressive 80-66 win over Cornetti A.C. In Cornetti's they beat a strong team of Geneva College players.

Big "Bevo" Francis was in form last night, hitting 17 points for Freed & Hays. Tim Tucker, all-American from Duquesne University, chipped in with 18 for the winners. High point man for Freed & Hays was Witchey with 20.

Fannon with 26 markers paced the Cornetti quintet.

ONLY 12 TEAMS from the original 26-team field remain in the tourney. Four more squads will fall by the wayside tonight.

Salem Herron Transfer will make its initial appearance in the United tournament at 7 tonight. It will be up against Youngstown Snackette, a team composed of present and former Youngstown University cagers.

Possibly the most powerful team in the tourney, Akron Joe's All-Stars, is also slated to see action tonight. This squad is the Akron Goodyear team plus All-American Jim Darrow from Bowling Green.

Akron is pitted against Theron's IGA of New Waterford in a 9 p.m. fray.

The complete schedule for tonight is as follows:

7, Salem Herron Transfer vs Youngstown Snackette.

8, East Liverpool Wheatley Furniture vs Magnolia Whitacre - Greer.

9, Akron Joe's All-Stars vs Theron's IGA of New Waterford.

10, Alliance Independents vs Lee Stockon's of Canton.

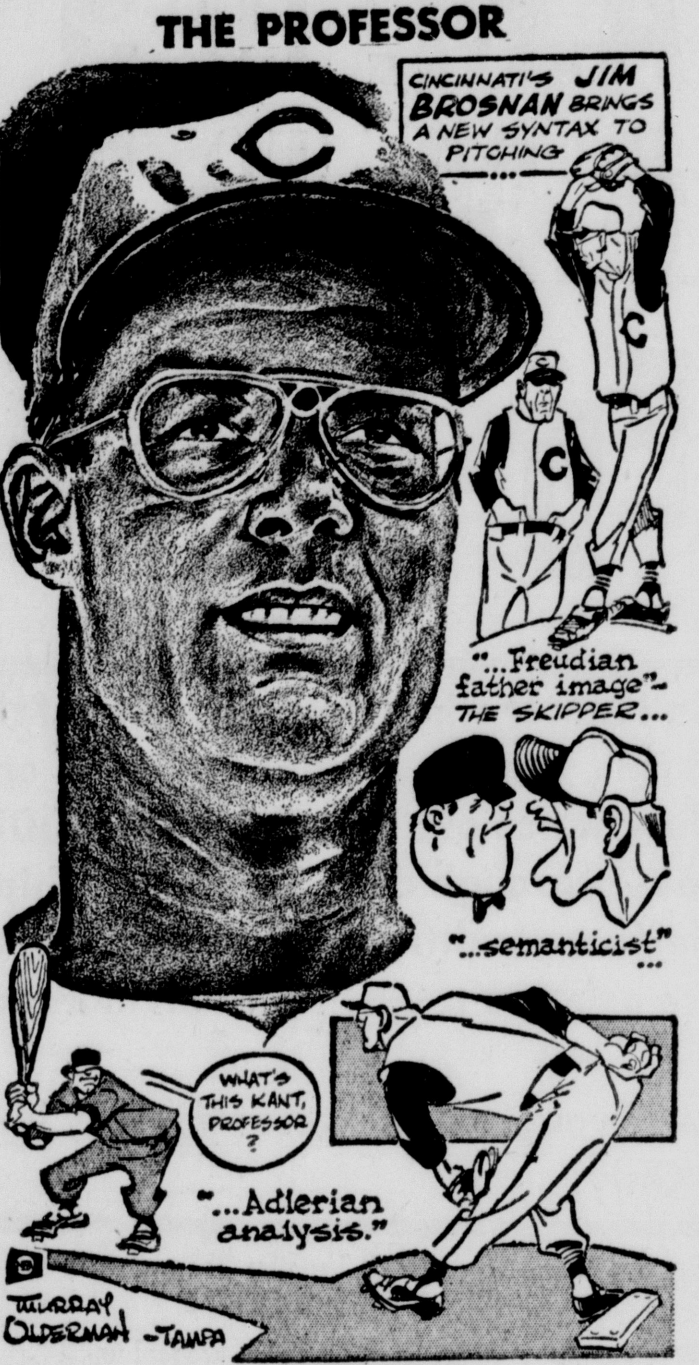

WARREN BOXER LOSES

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Frank Smith, 145½-pounder from Warren, Ohio, dropped a six-round boxing decision here Wednesday night to Charley Yates, 151, of Detroit. It was a preliminary bout to a main event in which Johnny Bizzaro, Erie lightweight, TKO'd Benny Randall of Toronto, Canada, in 2:28 of the first round.

Bill Reinhart has been head basketball coach at George Washington University since 1935.

Big O Closes College Career With 14 Individual Records

NEW YORK (AP)—Cincinnati's fabulous All America, Oscar Robertson, leading a trend toward more offense in basketball, closed out his college career with 14 individual records including the college's all-time major scorer.

National Collegiate Athletic Bureau's final statistics released today showed Robertson's Cincinnati and their upstate buddies Ohio State dominated the trend to increased scoring in at least four categories.

Robertson led all scorers with 1,011 points and a 33.7 average while All America Jerry Lucas of Ohio State had the highest field goal percentage (.637). The national champion Buckeyes further showed the trend by beating defense leader California in the NCAA final, 75-55.

Injuries Sideline Several Yankees

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A suddenly ballooned injury list may take some of the gloss off the New York Yankees recent perked-up performances.

Moose Skowron, Kent Hadley and Frank Leja all have pulled leg muscles and will be out for two or three days.

Yogi Berra is bothered by his annual spring annoyance, a fungus infection on his hands that necessitates the wearing of white gloves and hampers his catching chores.

Gil McDougald is suffering from a stiff elbow after being hit by a pitch on Tuesday. He won't be back for a couple of games.

Art Dighmar is in the hospital with an infected big toe on his right foot. He is expected to be released today.

Elmer Valo is limping after being hit by one of his own foul tips during batting practice Wednesday.

Fight Results

Tigers Bow 2-0 To White Sox

Braves, Dodgers, Pirates Winners

By The Associated Press

The Chicago White Sox traded for Gene Freese and Minnie Minoso in a bid to retain the American League pennant. The New York Yankees acquired Roger Maris in a move to regain the AL title. The Cleveland Indians dealt for Bubba Phillips and bought Bob Hale to try and win that same championship.

And brother, those winter deals looked good Wednesday in spring training games.

Here's what happened as the White Sox, Indians and Yankees (they finished in that order in 1959) turned in close exhibition victories.

Freese and Minoso had two of the three hits that produced the White Sox' runs in a 2-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers at Sarasota.

Maris had four nits, including the game-breaker in the Yankees 11th-inning rally that nipped the Baltimore Orioles 4-3 at St. Petersburg.

Hale delivered a bases-loaded double and Phillips walked to force in the winning run as the Indians scored four times in the ninth and defeated the Chicago Cubs 10-9 at Tucson.

In other games Wednesday, the Milwaukee Braves defeated the Cincinnati Reds 3-2 in 12 innings at Jacksonville, the St. Louis Cardinals outdid the Boston Red Sox 13-10 at Scottsdale, the Los Angeles Dodgers whipped the San Francisco Giants 14-10 at Phoenix, and the Pittsburgh Pirates shaded the Philadelphia Phillies 7-6 in 10 innings at Fort Myers. Kansas City and Washington were idle.

Nicklaus, Snead Favored In Tourney

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Sam Snead and the 20-year-old U.S. amateur champion, Jackie Nicklaus, rode the hottest streaks into today's opening round of the 24th Masters Golf Tournament.

A field of 84-67 professionals and 17 amateurs — starts the four-day, 72-hole test over the Augusta National course.

Snead warmed up for a go at his fourth Masters title by winning an inaugural preliminary tournament. He's been playing like a man on a rampage.

Nicklaus, from Columbus, Ohio, rocked the game's elite with a brilliant final practice round of 68, six under par. He bulled his way over the massive, 6,850-yard course as if it were a plaything and announced afterward: "I'm not here for the amateur prize—I want to win the tournament."

For those who try to handicap a golf tournament the way they would a horse race, Snead and Nicklaus are high in favor.

Arnold Palmer is the advance favorite at odds of 6-1. The year's leading money winner with $26,000-plus and four tournament victories on his belt, the young, bull-like pro from Ligonier, Pa., is the solid pick of most players and spectators.

Behind Palmer in favoritism is Ken Venturi, the popular San Francisco youngster who has been a sentimental choice since he let the Masters crown slip away in 1956. Venturi is an 8-1 bet, followed by Snead and Cary Middlecoff, the latter experimenting with a new driver.

Celtics Score Easy Victory Over Hawks

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks again have their backs to the wall but—maybe because they've been there before—they feel certain that they can square pro basketball's world series with the Boston Celtics tonight.

"We didn't panic when Minneapolis had us down 3-2," said Coach Easy Ed Macauley. "We'll have to reach down and come up with another big one. We've done it before."

The Celtics by winning tonight can wrap up their third National Basketball Assn. title in the past four seasons. A St. Louis victory would force a deciding seventh game in Boston Saturday afternoon.

Larry Foust, the Hawks veteran 6-foot-9, 250-pound reserve center, suffered a break in one of the small bones of his left hand in Boston's 127-102 victory Tuesday night in Boston. Foust is wearing a cast and—if he is able to play at all—will be badly handicapped in shooting and rebounding. Rookie Bob Ferry will get a chance in his place.

With Boston's great backcourt wizard, Bob Cousy, back in top form, Foust injured and Hawk star Bob Pettit still bothered by a back injury, the outlook isn't bright for St. Louis.

Kerwin-Fullmer Bout Concludes In Draw

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gale Kerwin's ability and Jay Fullmer's full aggressiveness got the two welterweights a draw in a 10-rounder at a beach front hotel ballroom Wednesday night.

Kerwin, 142½, from Ottawa, Canada, and Valley Stream, N.Y., and Fullmer, 139, of West Jordan, Utah, did little mixing before the seventh round. Their most hectic action began halfway through round 10. There were no knockdowns in the nationally televised fight.

Referee Rocky Marciano gave each 98 points on the 10-point system. Judge David Feld favored Kerwin 98-95 and Judge Barry Pearlman gave Fullmer a 97-95 edge.

Reds Defeated By Braves 3-2

Stenhouse's Only Pitch Results In Loss

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—It's entirely possible that rookie Dave Stenhouse of the Cincinnati Reds may have "won" himself a ticket back to the minor leagues Wednesday with just one pitch.

The 27-year-old Stenhouse hasn't figured too prominently in Reds' plans recently and Stan Lopata hit the rookie's first—and only—pitch of the game over the wall for a home run.

The wallop gave the Milwaukee Braves a 3-2 victory over the Reds at Jacksonville, Fla., in 12 innings. Stenhouse had just relieved Brooks Lawrence.

Stenhouse was considered a brilliant prospect when the Chicago Cubs signed him in 1955 but a sore arm threatened to ruin his career almost at the start.

Since early in the 1956 season, however, he has done well in the minors and last year at Seattle he had a 2.84 earned run average while posting a 12-13 record.

Aside from that one pitch, the Reds got some pretty fair hurling Wednesday.

Jim Brosnan didn't hurt his chances of being the opening game pitcher despite the fact he gave up two of the Milwaukee runs. He allowed only four hits in six innings but one of them was a home run by Frank Torre.

Bill Henry worked two hitless innings and struck out four. Lawrence gave up only a harmless single in three innings.

The Reds didn't do much hitting of their own, however, off Carlton Willey and Bob Rush. The big guns of the Cincinnati batting order—Vada Pinson, Gus Bell, Frank Robinson and Tony Gonzalez—came up with only one hit in 19 times at bat. It was a single by Pinson.

Thus the Reds were a bit lucky even to carry the game into extra innings. They were behind, 2-1, going into the ninth when a wild pitch by Willey allowed Elio Chacon to go from second to third from where he scored on Lee Walls' foul fly. Chacon had doubled.

The Reds and Braves continue their barnstorming trip home here today with Joe Nuxhall scheduled to open as Cincinnati's pitcher against the Braves' Lew Burdette.

Larsen Consigned To Athletics' Bullpen

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Don Larsen, the only pitcher who ever hurled a perfect, no-hit World Series game, has been consigned to the Kansas City Athletics' bullpen.

The big right-hander, who defeated Brooklyn in the 1956 Series by retiring 27 straight batters, came to the lowly Athletics in a winter deal that sent outfielder

Herbert Hoover Tells Why He Will Never Retire Voluntarily

At 85, Herbert Hoover, our longest-lived ex-President, carries a work schedule that would cause many a younger man to buckle under its strain. Vigorously opposed to retirement, the octogenarian lives by an inspiring four-point philosophy: (1) Regardless of age, only work can make you feel worthwhile; (2) keeping busy aids an older's health; (3) your effort counts, no matter who you are; and (4) only in "retirement" years can you really "give back" to the world.

Family Weekly offers an intimate glimpse of this tireless ex-President and his unorthodox approach to life in the article, "Herbert Hoover Tells Why: 'I Don't Believe in Retirement.'" Don't miss it, distributed with your Saturday edition of THE SALEM NEWS.

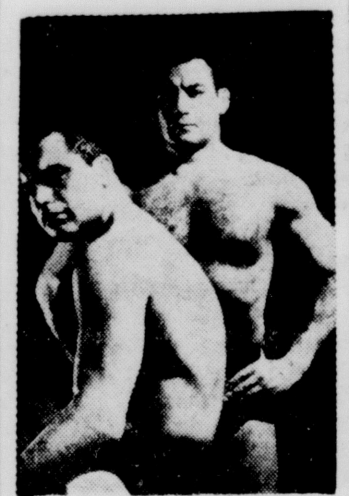

The same issue of Family Weekly presents the fascinating article, "The Unknown Story of Lincoln's Tomb," which reveals a bold and almost successful attempt by three Chicago men to steal Lincoln's body in 1876.

"...the most significant engineering advance" of 1960

... Motor Trend Magazine

Corvair "CAR OF THE YEAR" named

"Four-wheel independent suspension totally unlike any other U.S.-built car" ... "air-cooled aluminum engine ... not dependent on the properties of a liquid coolant" ... a rear-mounted transaxle "allowing a flatter floor and a lower roofline. . . ." These are some of the praises heaped upon Corvair by the editors of Motor Trend—the world's largest general automotive magazine—in announcing their coveted Car-of-the-Year award. Other cars didn't even come close. The Motor Trend experts, who evaluated every make in the country, were unanimous in their decision, published in the April issue. But, unless you have personally driven a Corvair, you can't appreciate what this engineering achievement really means in combining compact car economy and agility with big for economical transportation car ride, room and sure-footedness. Drop down to your dealer's, take a trial drive and then judge the corvair Car of the Year for yourself!

Tribe Nips Cubs 10-9 In Slugfest

Indians Rally In 9th Inning

Grant Allows Two Hits In Five Frames

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Frank Lane, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, says the other clubs in the American League now wish they had not let the National League get a head start on the baseball season.

The NL voted to start a week early this year and swings into action next week. American League squads continue to play exhibitions until the following week.

"Cleveland was the only club to vote against the late start," Lane declared Wednesday. "Now the clubs who voted for it wish they had voted against it."

"Look at all the publicity the National League will get while we're still playing exhibitions. And then there'll be the added cost of another week of training." Lane thinks after this the two leagues will start off together again.

The Indians Wednesday put catcher Ed Fitzgerald on the retired list and added him officially to the coaching staff. Fitzgerald, 35, could be put back on the roster if either Russ Nixon or John Romano should get hurt.

In a slugfest with the Chicago Cubs, the Indians garnered 14 hits to 16 for Chicago but won 10-9.

The victory came on a ninth-inning rally that overcame a four-run deficit.

The Cubs scored seven runs in the eighth and ninth to pile up what looked like a safe margin.

A pinch double by Bob Hale with the bases loaded and none out in the ninth drove in three Cleveland runs, tying the score. An intentional walk to Nixon loaded the bases again, and Norm Cash lifted a fly to short left field to drive in the winning run.

Jim Grant, starting pitcher for Cleveland, allowed two runs in five innings. He was followed by Dick Stigman, who held the Cubs scoreless in the sixth and seventh before getting wild. The Cubs scored three runs off Bob Tiefenauer, who relieved Stigman, and three more off Bobby Locke.

The Indians meet St. Louis here today.

Ted Still Bothered By Pain In Neck

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Ted Williams still is looking for the answer to the question everyone is asking—can a throbbing neck and aging bones carry him through another season as a Boston Red Sox regular?

"The neck is neither better nor worse," the 41-year-old slugger said today. "I still don't know what I'm going to do this year." If hard work will prolong the major league career of the colorful Williams who will mark his 21st season next month, Ted could hang up his "business as usual" shingle in left field right now.

Always as sternly devoted to conditioning as he is to base hits, Williams never has tolled longer or more willingly than this spring.

But the neck ailment, which dragged Williams from the lofty heights of American League batting championships in 1957 (.388) and '58 (.328) to .254 last season, persists. Ted currently is hitting .259 after appearing in 14 of Boston's 21 exhibition games. And his age is plaguing him in the form of the worst weight problem he's ever faced.

CROWDIN' FIRST: Gil Hodges (right) of the Los Angeles Dodgers has successfully fended off 15 rivals for his job at first base in the past dozen years. Frank Howard (left) is No. 16. But at the rate Gil is going, the Dodgers may have time to wait for Gil Jr. (center) to succeed his father.

Indian Star Scores Four Goals In Game

By The Associated Press
Bill McCreary has joined a select group of players who scored four goals in one American Hockey League playoff game. And because of his feat the Springfield Indians hold a 3-1 edge over the Providence Reds in their best-of-seven semifinal series for the Calder Cup.

McCreary tallied all of the Indians' goals Wednesday night as the regular season champions turned back Providence 4-3. Only three other players ever scored as many goals in a playoff game.

The veteran left wing, who has been up with the New York Rangers and Detroit Red Wings, scored once in the first period, twice in the second and then fired into the open cage at 19:43 of the finale after the Reds had yanked goalie Bruce Gamble with 50 seconds remaining.

The Indians will seek the clincher in the fifth game on their home ice Friday. Cleveland, holding a 32 lead over Rochester in the other semifinal, can wrap up the other series Saturday at home.

Golf League Hopes To Expand To 12 Teams

The newly organized Robbins Knoll Golf League will meet at 4 p.m. Sunday at the Robbins Knoll course with hopes of expanding to 12 teams.

The league held its first meeting last Sunday. Four men were named to the rules committee. They are Gene Smythe, chairman; Ray Olson; Vince Crawford and Hal Keefe. Five teams were formed. Anyone interested in joining the league is asked to be present at the meeting Sunday.

5,425 ATTEND RACES

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Rain and snow collaborated to produce a slow track at Ascot Park's reopening day Wednesday.

However, 5,425 fans turned out for the belated event and bet a total of $308,905.

The original opener was last Friday, but the track in suburban Cuyahoga Falls was closed after the second race because of dangerously muddy conditions.

DAYTON-XAVIER TEAM WINS

ST. ALBANS, W. Va. (AP)—A team composed of Dayton and Xavier University cagers edged another composed of former Marshall College and Ohio University players Wednesday night 91-85 in the St. Albans Sportsman's Basketball Tournament.

East Liverpool Squad Wins

Salem High Cagers Featured by Team

Travelers Hotel of East Liverpool, featuring Salem area high school cagers, rolled to its second straight victory Wednesday night in the Junior Basketball Tournament being played at Memorial Auditorium in East Liverpool.

With Nick Milasovich and Bruce Osborn handling the major share of the scoring and Salem's Dave Hunter assuming the role of playmaker, the Travelers trampled Russells Dairy of Wellsville, 77-61.

Milasovich of Youngstown Woodrow Wilson and Osborn of Chaney collected 27 and 20 points, respectively. Hunter, who continually fed the big men with sharp passes, wound up with nine markers.

In other games last night East Liverpool American Vitrified downed Marland Heights Drugs of Weirton, W. Va., 75-71; Roberts Drugs of Bridgeport slaughtered Minerva Harsh Billiards, 100-34; and East Liverpool Eason Insurance trampled Mansfield Jones Market, 75-62.

Travelers Hotel is slated to meet Eason Insurance in a semi-finals game Friday night. Eason Insurance is the defending champion. It is composed of Swissvale High School cagers, featuring high scoring Jack Byrnes.

Some of the other name players in the East Liverpool tourney include All-Ohio John Namciu and Dave Perry of Canton Timken who are playing for American Vitrified; Movie Smith, Gene Lake, Steve Yetso and Nick Vukovich, Midland High School stars playing with Midland Gengarellas; and Phil Musgrave of Steubenville, who is performing for Roberts Drugs.

Salem-Hubbard Track Meet Postponed

The track meet which Salem was attempting to arrange this week with Hubbard has been postponed, Athletic Director Fred Cope announced today.

Instead, a triangular meet between Coach Karl Zellers' Quakers and teams from Beaver Local and United High Schools will get the outdoor season underway here at 4 p.m. Friday on the Reilly Stadium track.

Cope said a meet with Hubbard will be scheduled later in the season. The meet slated for either tonight or Friday with the Eagles was called off due to a death in the family of the Hubbard coach.

KSU Baseball Team Will Meet Toledo

Matt Resick's Kent State baseball team will open Mid-American conference play this weekend with two games at Toledo. Friday's game will begin at 3 p.m. and Saturday's at 1:30.

Toledo will be opening its season. The Golden Flashes have already played three games with Ohio State, winning one and losing two.

Resick is expected to start left-hander Marty Kane and right hander Vic Pumo in the games. Kane and Pumo both took the losses in last week's games.

Sophomore outfielder Harry Kalbaugh and senior second-baseman Dick Rollins are the team's leading hitters. Kalbaugh was four for 10 in the weekend series and Rollins was four for 11 with a home run.

The Kent State tennis team, coached by Karl Chesnut, will be taking the weekend off before trying for its sixth straight victory of the season at Penn College Wednesday.

The netters, with two unbeaten performers in sophomore Paul Walker and senior Bill Foreman, won five games on a southern tour and defeated Pittsburgh, 8-1, last Saturday.

FULLBACK IS INJURED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Roger Detrick, starting fullback in the final games last season, suffered a pulled leg muscle at Wednesday's Ohio State spring football workouts. Seriousness of the hurt was not determined.

This was the second of 18 sessions planned. The Buckeyes drill on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.

76 Horses Entered In Colt Stakes At County Fair

Seventy-six horses are entered in the colt stakes to be run Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday, Aug. 24, 25 and 27, at the Columbiana County Fair, according to Galen Greenisen, speed secretary.

This is twice the number entered in races last August. Greenisen says, and includes 13 horses in the 3-year-old trot (Aug. 24), 26 in the 2-year-old pace (Aug. 25) and 20 in the 2-year-old trot and 17 in the 3-year-old pace (Aug. 27).

The events will be run for a purse of about $1,000 each, made available through the new Ohio State fair funds law.

First day of the fair, Tuesday, Aug. 23, will be youth day, with the young people putting on the entire program, including the grand stand performance at night.

Plans for the improved junior fair were reviewed for the fair board by county agents Don Myers, Miss Julia Shank and Joe Burger and George Dickson, vocational agriculture teacher at United Local High School.

The fair board announces rental of the ground to Northeast Ohio Horse Pullers Assn. for Decoration Day, May 30.

Columbiana County Board of Education was granted use of the grounds Friday, May 20, for a grades 7-8 track meet. Monday, May 23, is the rain date if needed.

SLABY TO BE ON TV

A University of Pittsburgh intrasquad football game will be televised over channel 11 Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30. Freshman Fullback Lou Slaby from Salem is one of the gridirers who will be seen in action as the Panthers are put through their spring drills.

Court Rejects Plea Of Driver Whose Auto Killed Seven

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has rejected John M. Hines' plea to end his penitentiary stay. Hines was sentenced in the deaths of seven motorists on the Ohio Turnpike Nov. 7, 1958.

Hines, of Detroit, pleaded guilty to seven counts of second-degree manslaughter and received 1-10-year sentences to run consecutively on each count.

In unanimously rejecting his habeas corpus plea Wednesday, the Supreme Court said Hines must remain in prison because he has not served the minimum seven years of his sentences.

The high court unanimously reversed a $50,000 award to locomotive engineer Robert S. Ladd of Toledo in his suit against the New York Central Railroad. Lower courts allowed the award in a $125,000 suit which charged the company violated an agreement with Ladd's union in disqualifying him from work because of illness in 1951.

The high court reversed on grounds Ladd did not appeal to the National Railroad Adjustment Board before going to court.

In other actions Wednesday, the Supreme Court:

Reversed, 5-0, a municipal court order for Richland County Commissioners to pay Mansfield General Hospital's $195 bill for treatment of Mrs. Henry J. Carmichael, a Knox County indigent. The high court said commissioners were not liable because the case was not an emergency.

Held, 5-0, that the state tax commissioner has sole authority to determine remission of 15 per cent penalties assessed for failure to pay Ohio's axle tax on big trucks. The tax commissioner imposed penalties on Interstate Motor System and Transport Motor Express for failure to file returns during a court test of the axle tax. After payment, the carriers asked remission of penalties. Partial remission was granted Interstate but denied Transport because of inadequate records.

Oatmeal Bread Is Nutritious

Cooks eager to learn to bake with yeast ask for tips. Here are elaborations of the steps in this recipe for a nutritious oatmeal bread.

To scald milk, pour the amount of milk called for in the recipe into a saucepan; heat slowly until just below the boiling point; a thin film will appear over the surface of the milk and there will probably be tiny bubbles at the pan edges.

Cool the milk to lukewarm. Test for this temperature: a few drops of the milk on your wrist should feel neither hot nor cold.

To knead, fold the side of the dough that is away from you toward you; with the back part of your palms, gently push the dough away; grasp with both hands and turn one-quarter way around on the board. Repeat this rhythmically, sprinkling board with flour if dough sticks.

Set the bowl of dough to rise in a warm place; that means 80 to 85 degrees. If your kitchen is not this temperature for the first rising, put a large pan of boiling water on the lowest oven rack.

Over it, on the next rack in the unheated oven, place the covered bowl of dough. When the water cools, replace it with freshly boiled water.

After the first rising, to test whether the dough is double in bulk, gently press two fingers into it; if a deep indentation stays after fingers are removed, dough is ready.

After the second rising, to test whether the dough is double in size, a slight indentation should remain when the loaf is pressed gently with a finger tip.

Oatmeal Bread (Twin Loaves)

Ingredients: 1 cup milk, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 cup shortening, 1/4 cup warm (105 to 115 degrees) water, 1 package active dry yeast, 2 eggs (slightly beaten), 3 1/2 to 4 cups sifted flour, 2 cups old-fashioned rolled oats, melted butter or margarine, 1/2 teaspoons poppy seeds.

Method: Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and shortening; cool to lukewarm.

Measure water into a large mixing bowl; sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture; beat in eggs and 1 cup flour; stir in rolled oats.

and enough more flour to make a soft dough.

Turn dough out on prepared pastry cloth or lightly floured board; knead 10 minutes or until smooth and elastic. Round dough into ball; place in greased bowl; brush top with melted butter; cover and let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk—about 1 1/2 hours.

Punch dough down; turn out on pastry cloth; cover and let rest 10 minutes. Divide dough into four parts; shape each part to form a ball.

For each loaf, place two balls in greased loaf pan (9 by 5 by 2 1/2 inches); brush tops with melted butter; sprinkle with poppy seeds.

Cover and let rise in warm place until nearly doubled in size—about 45 minutes. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) about 40 minutes. Makes 2 twin loaves.

Egg Foo Young

Ingredients: 5 eggs (slightly beaten), 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup shredded celery cabbage, 1/4 cup drained canned chopped mushrooms, 2 teaspoons instant onion, 8 cooked large fresh shrimp (diced), 3 water chestnuts (sliced), peanut oil.

Method: Stir together the egg, salt, cabbage, mushrooms, onion, shrimp and water chestnuts.

Heat 2 teaspoons oil in a 6-inch skillet over low to medium heat. Pour a scant half cup of egg mixture into skillet; cook until lightly brown; turn and brown other side; drain lightly on absorbent paper.

Keep warm in oven or on grill. Make remaining three omelets the same way. Serve with Egg Foo Young Sauce. Makes 4 omelets—2 main course servings.

Egg Foo Young Sauce: In a small saucepan stir 1 1/2 teaspoons corn-starch with 1/2 cup cold water until smooth; stir in 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 1/4 teaspoon monosodium glutamate and a clear light brown. Serve hot with 1/2 teaspoon soy sauce.

Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until thickened and omelets.

Ellsworth

An open reception will be held Sunday from 2 to 3 p.m. in the Ellsworth United Presbyterian Church, celebrating the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford West of Westhill.

Thirty-three members and guests of the Berlin-Ellsworth Ruritan Club met in the Ellsworth United Presbyterian Church recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Barnes

moved to their new home on Berlin Station Rd. Saturday.

Their former home has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hotz.

Mrs. Myron Young is recovering at her home in Ellsworth Center after spending several weeks in the Salem City Hospital.

Several officers and members of the United Presbyterian Church attended an area meeting of the Campus Christian Life Advance Program at the Kinsman Presbyterian Church.

Tomato Rarebit

Ingredients: 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon curry powder, 3/4 cup milk, 1 cup lightly drained canned tomato, 2 cups of grated cheddar cheese (medium fine and lightly packed), 8 deviled egg halves, 8 slices crisp toast, parsley sprigs.

Method: In a saucepan over low heat melt the butter; stir in the flour, salt, mustard and curry powder.

Add milk; cook and stir until thickened. Add tomato and cheese; stir over very low heat just until cheese melts.

Pour over toast; top with egg halves; garnish with parsley. Makes 4 servings.

Note: The tomatoes drained from a 10-ounce can will give the amount needed for this recipe.

Tuna-Broccoli Dish Is Quick, Exciting

Dairy foods are a natural when it comes to planning meatless main dishes. All types of cheeses, both processed and natural, will add essential high quality protein to the diet.

Combination main dishes are usually easy and economical and TunaBroccoli Almondine is no exception. The richly flavored cream sauce enhances the food value of the broccoli and tuna to create a dish that will generously serve six for luncheon or supper.

Planned as an economical main dish, Tuna Broccoli Almondine

may be complimented with the following menu: molded fruit salad, creamy dressing, rolls, butter, cinnamon based apple and milk.

TunaBroccoli Almondine
2 packages (10 oz. each) frozen, or 1 1/2 pounds fresh broccoli, 2 cans (7 oz. each) tuna, drained and flaked, 1/2 cup slivered almonds, 1/4 cup butter, 1/4 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, Dash of nutmeg, 2 cups milk, Paprika.

Cook broccoli until tender; drain and arrange in buttered 1 1/2 quart baking dish (10 x 6 x 1 1/4 inches). Spread tuna evenly over broccoli. Sauté almonds in butter until lightly browned; remove from butter and drain on paper towels.

Blend flour, salt, pepper and nutmeg into butter. Add milk and cook stirring constantly until sauce is smooth and thickened. Stir sherry into sauce and pour over tuna. Sprinkle with paprika.

Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 25 minutes or until bubbly around edges. Sprinkle browned almonds over top just before serving.

Beef Loaf

Ingredients: 1 egg, 1/2 cup milk, 3 tablespoons minced parsley, 4 teaspoons finely grated onion (pulp and juice), 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, crumbs from 2 slices soft bread (crusts removed), 1 pound ground beef chuck.

Method: Beat egg lightly; add milk and beat enough to combine. Stir in parsley, onion, salt and pepper.

Add bread crumbs and allow to stand about 5 minutes. Add beef and mix enough to blend. Pack into small wet loaf pan (7 1/2 by 4 by 3 3/4 inches); turn out on greased oven-proof platter or shallow baking pan.

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 45 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Cadillac

Where a Man is Never a Stranger!

Ever see this gentleman before?

We would guess that you haven't. And yet, we'll wager that you sense something familiar about him as you watch him step confidently from the driver's seat.

For the truth is—no man is ever wholly a stranger to those who behold him in the distinguished company of a new Cadillac motor car.

Dignified, impressive and substantial—it proclaims him a man of achievement who is very likely known and respected in his world of affairs.

Beautiful, tasteful and elegant—it announces him as a person of judgment who selects his possessions with exceptional care and taste.

Soundly built, economical and dependable—it indicates his personal wisdom and his constant concern with the important practical values.

To be sure, the honor which a Cadillac does its owner is the result of the honor which owners themselves have conferred on the car. For those who choose Cadillac share these qualities to such a degree that they are expected of whomever sits at its wheel.

This unique reward comes, of course, in addition to Cadillac's merits as a motor car—its brilliant performance and ride... its remarkable quietness in operation... and its miraculous comfort and ease of handling.

We suggest you visit your Cadillac dealer very soon. He'll see to it that you're no longer a stranger to the 1960 "car of cars". Why not make an appointment today?

French Fried Potato Balls Have Tangy Flavor

Add a new number to your repertoire of potato favorites—French Fried Potato Balls.

This accompaniment enlivens meatless meals with unexpectedly tangy flavor and pleasing texture contrasts. A horseradish-sour cream sauce may be served with the potato balls.

Make the potato balls simply by combining cottage cheese, onions, egg, mashed potatoes and seasonings.

For convenience, use instant mashed potatoes. Shape the potato mixture into balls. Before frying, roll them in corn flake crumbs and egg to give a golden coating.

French Fried Potato Balls
 8 cups corn flakes or 2 cups packaged corn flake crumbs, 1 cup cottage cheese, 1/4 cup minced onions, 1 egg, well-beaten, 3 cups mashed potatoes, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard, 2 teaspoons horseradish, 3 eggs, well-beaten.
 Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs. Combine cottage cheese, onions, egg, mashed potatoes and seasonings; mix well. Shape into small balls 1 1/2 inches in diameter.

Roll in corn flake crumbs, then in egg, again in corn flake crumbs. Fry in deep hot fat (475 degrees F.) about 2 minutes, or until crispy and well browned.

Serve with horseradish-flavored sour cream if desired.

Roast Duck

Ingredients: 1 cup water, 4 table-spoons butter or margarine, 1 package (8 ounces) herb-seasoned prepared stuffing, 1 table-spoon grated orange rind, ¼ cup currants (rinsed in hot water and drained), 1 large sweet apple (grated coarsely with skin), 2 small ducklings (3 to 4 pounds ready-to-cook weight).

Add stuffing and stir to moisten evenly. Add orange rind, currants and grated apple; mix well but lightly. Stuff lightly into ducks; roast in oven on rotisserie. Makes 8 servings

WEATHER FORECAST FOR NEXT 30 DAYS — These maps, based on those supplied by the United States Weather Bureau, forecast the probable rainfall and temperatures for the next 30 days.

Westville

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wuthrick, Mr. and Mrs. Hoy Smith, Mr. and Mrs. George Heston, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Stanley, Mrs. David Smith, Mrs. Harry Bowker, Mr. and Mrs. Jerd Dow and Gladys and Rachel Oesch attended the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Oesch at the Methodist Church in Berlin Center Sunday.

Mrs. Philip Herold of Beloit, Mrs. Harry Bowker of Salem, Mrs. Merlin Stanley of Damascus and Miss Rachel Oesch assisted at the rehearsal Saturday for Sue Ella Hoopes and Eugene Oesch.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmid of Sebring, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ronner and Mrs. Ada Wuthrick were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Trummer.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Stanley returned Saturday from Florida where they spent the winter.

Parsley Beets

Ingredients: 2 pounds whole beets, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 table-spoons butter or margarine, 2 table-spoons lemon juice, pepper, 2 table-spoons minced parsley.

Method: Cut off beet tops, leaving root ends and 1-inch of tops attached. Wash well.

Place whole and unpeeled in a saucepan with boiling water to cover and salt. Cover and cook until tender—25 to 35 minutes or longer.

Cool until beets can be handled. Remove skins; cut into ¼-inch slices.

Melt butter and mix with lemon juice, a dash of pepper and par-sley; toss lightly with beets; add salt to taste. Reheat beets, if nec-essary, before adding parsley. Makes 6 servings.

Youth to Get Hearing On Probation Violation

LISBON — Charles Cipolla, 18, of Brooklyn, N.Y., will have a hearing Friday at 10 a.m. before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for probation violation.

panions, Raymond Michalski and Edward J. Ruffler of New York were arrested for the burglary last April 4 of Gaydo's Service Station south of Rogers on Rt. 7.

Michalski was sentenced to one to five years in the Mansfield Reformatory and Ruffler received a suspended county jail sentence. Cipolla, a minor at the time, was placed on probation with New York authorities and was recently picked up as a user of narcotics. He waived extradition and was returned to this county.
